Magazine Article Probes Fee Presented To Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Abe Fortas received a $20,000 fee from the family of industrialist Louis E. Wolfson three months after he was seated on the Supreme Court and did not return the money until 11 months later, according to Life magazine.

Fortas confirmed Sunday that he was offered and considered a fee but flatly denied that he accepted or that he stepped in to help Wolfson, a former client who went to jail last month on a federal securities law conviction.

The justice said he returned the fee, "tendered" in 1966, "with my thanks." His statement, issued at the court after he had read an advance copy of the Life article, did not say how large the fee was or when he retax-free charitable organization set up by Wolfson and his brothers, paid Fortas $20,000 in January 1966, three months after he was sworn in as an associate justice.

The article, by William Lambert, said Fortas returned the money in December 1966, three months after the financial tycoon and his longtime business associate, Elkin Gerbert, had been indicted on charges of selling a large block of unregistered stock in a company Wolfson and Gerbert controlled.

Life said "whatever services he may or may not have rendered to the foundation, Justice Fortas' name was being dropped in strategic places by Wolfson and his business associate, Elkin Gerbert, in their effort to stay out of prison."

The Justice Department, meanwhile, said it "is aware of the contents of the article in nected with the work of the foundation."

He added: "Concluding that I could not undertake the assignmnt, I returned the fee with my thanks."

Fortas said that at no time since he became a justice did he give Wolfson or any of his family, associates, foundations or inturned it.

Life's account was that the Wolfson Family Foundation, a Life magazine and currently has the matter under consideration."

Fortas' statement, issued two hours after he had driven to the court on an otherwise quiet Sunday, began: "I have not accepted any fee or emolument from Mr Wolfson or the Wolfson Family Foundation or any related person or group."

Fortas went on to say he met Wolfson in 1965, before going on the Court, after a Wolfson company had retained his old law firm.

The Justice said the foundation offered the fee "in the hope that I would find time and could undertake, consistently with my court obligations, research functions, studies and writings conterests any legal advice or services.

The statement said the foundation is engaged in "significant and commendable work" in the field of harmonious racial and religious relations.

Life's version said that Fortas flew down to Wolfson's horse-breeding farm near Ocala, Fla., in June 1966 and was his guest when the Securities and Exchange Commission's "long-feared investigation finally came to public attention."

The magazine said "it is not easy to pin down the exact extent of the Wolfson-Fortas relationship, nor has Life uncovered evidence making possible a charge that Wolfson hired Fortas to fix his case."

Last year President Johnson nominated Fortas to succeed Earl Warren as Chief Justice. The Senate Judiciary Committee received testimony that while on the court Fortas had accepted $15,000 to conduct a summer seminar at the American University law school.

The nomination eventually was withdrawn as Fortas faced obvious defeat at the hands of senators who criticized either his conduct or the court's liberal stance.

Rumors have cropped up since that he plans to resign. He said last week he has "no such intention." Sunday afternoon, Banning E. Whittington, the Court press officer, said "I see no indication" that the Justice is contemplating stepping down.

Plumbing Fixture Makers May Lose Billions Of Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the nation's largest makers of plumbing fixures face the possible loss of billions of dollars from damage suits by customers who bought their equipment at what a federal court jury found were illegally fixed prices.

Nearly every state and numerous cities already have filed suits seeking treble damages against the three firms convicted of criminal price fixing last week and 12 other companies who earlier pleaded no contest to the charges, according to a Justice Department official.

Besides the state and local governments, other major purchaser of plumbing fixtures—building contractors, and even individual homeowners—are expected to file suits, the official added.

Under federal law, those found guilty of criminal violations of antitrust acts are liable, if convicted in subsequent civil suts, for treble damages.

The prospect for the mammoth damages arose Friday when a federal jury in Pittsburgh found the Borg Warner Corp., of Chicago; American Standard Corp., New York; and the Kohler Corp., Kohler, Wisc., guilty of illegally raising and pre-setting the price for bathtubs and other bathroom fixtures.

Three officials of the firms also were found guilty.

The Justice Department prosecutor for the case, John C. Fricano, referring to the persons and groups expected to file suits, said: "With the guilty verdict, they don't have to prove their case."

The 15 companies and eight officials were accused in federal indictments Oct. 6, 1966 with fixing the prices on all fixtures they sold between September 1962 and 1966.

The government said the total sales amounted to $1 billion or 98 per cent of the enameled cast iron plumbing fixtures and 80 per cent of the vitreous china plumbing fixtures sold in this country during the period.

The guilty verdict was returned Friday, and U.S. Dist. Court Judge Louis Rosenberg ordered a pre-sentencing investigation before setting penalties.

Primary Weather To Be Favorable

The Ohio weatherman today promised generally favorable weather for the primary elections Tuesday in which Columbiana County voters will select candidates for municipal offices and decide the fate of four special questions and issues.

All City Hall Offices To Close For Voting

All City Hall offices, including Municipal Court, will be closed Tuesday because of the primary elections.

The municipal building's main corridor is used as the voting place for Precinct B of the Third Ward. Mayor George E. Willshaw explained.

The forecaster said tomorrow will be partly cloudy, with the possibility of a few showers. But the temperatures will range into the 70's.

East Liverpool is expected to cast about 3,800 votes, a slightly larger turnout than for the last comparable primaries in 1967.

Polling places throughout Columbiana County will open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p.m.

Two - party primaries are slated only in East Liverpool and Columbiana village. Wellsville and Salem will have ony Democratic primaries and East Palestine will have only Republican balloting. Lisbon and Leetonia will skip the balloting entirely under the "no contest" law.

A decision on operating levies is due in the East Liverpool and Columbiana School Districts. Southern Local School District will vote on a $160,000 building bond issue. Salem City voters will act on a new half-mill current expense levy.

In the party primaries, East Liverpool Reppublicans and Democrats will nominate candidates for Council president, treasurer, three councilmen-at-large and four ward councilmen.

NO MAYOR'S office is at stake anywhere in Columbiana County. All mayors now are in four - year terms that run until 1971.

All six Liverpool Township precincts and three in St. Clair Township will vote as part of the East Liverpool School District, helping decide the fate of the two levies. The school district has 43 precincts in all — 34 in the city proper and nine in the two townships. The township voters will receive only a lone ballot listing the two school levies.

Enemy Hit All Along Cambodia

Damage Reports Being Withheld By Commanders

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command is withholding reports of damage the B52 bombers are inflicting in their campaign along the Cambodian border, the heaviest of the Vietnam war.

About 300 of the big bombers have rained $18 million worth of bombs along the frontier in the past two weeks, but there has been no official announcement of any results.

"We have no bomb damage assessment to report," the U.S. briefing officer says each day.

Informants said U.S. forces are constantly assessing the B52 strikes, but information officers for the U.S. Command have been instructed not to discuss damage assessment. The official line is that disclosure of such information would compromise American methods of gathering intelligence.

Some informants are skeptical, however. They said one reason for the official silence is that the U.S. Command fears an unfavorable public reaction to the skimpy results confirmable in relation to the money spent.

"We found some enemy bodies," said one officer, "at least four or five here and there."

But Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, and the Strategic Air Command consider the B52s a vital weapon in the war. Officers say the huge bombers harass enemy troops, deny them sanctuaries, keep them on the run and prevent them from getting organized for an offensive.

Court To Name Counsel

Hearing Due Wednesday For Beauty Shop Robbery

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Wednesday for Harold Bevell Raver, 38, of Baltimore in Fairfield County, charged with taking $280 and four wigs in a holdup of the Wells Beauty Shop on Market St. Friday night.

Raver was taken before the judge this morning on charges signed by Lt. Paul Blevins and Patrolman W. F. Copestick, but no plea was entered because he lacked counsel. The judge said he will seek to have counsel appointed for the defendant by Common Pleas Court at Lisbon. He set bond at $5,000.

Police said Raver was taken into custody in the Little England area at 11:05, two hours after he took the cash and wigs from Mrs. Geneva Long of Toronto, owner of the shop. Mrs. Long said the holdup man was in and out of the shop three times in the robbery.

The first time, the man menaced her and took the currency after ordering her to lie on the floor and not to move for three minutes. He also ripped the telephone off the wall, she said. He went outside, then returned and kicked her on the side of the head, warning that: "If you identify me, I will kill you," she told officers.

The man returned again, took the change from the cash drawer and went outside. When he returned for the last time, he snatched a wig off the propri-

City's Spring Cleanup Will Start On May 12

The incinerator department will launch the annual two-week citywide spring cleanup drive on Monday, May 12, to haul away the winter accumulation of trash and debris for householders who have cleaned their cellars, attics, lawns and gardens, Supt. John A. Melvin said today.

Following the usual trash schedules, the campaign will continue through Friday, May 23. The drive will start on so-called Route 3, in the North Side-Park Blvd. - Beechwood area.

Melvin said the preliminary announcement was issued to allow householders to begin their annual cleanups in advance of the collection. Detailed schedules will be issued as the drive progresses.

Syria Ends Cease-Fire With Israel

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria is beginning to shoot at Israel after almost two years of sitting on the sidelines of the Middle East conflict.

But at the same time, in a paradox typical of the ruling Baath party, the government of President Noureddin Atassi is showing increasing interest in a political settlement of the Arab-Israeli war.

Since the six-day war of 1967, Syria has taken pains to sound more extremist than other Arab countries. It repeatedly called for a "war of popular liberation" against Israel but did nothing afterward.

Syria's cease-fire line with Israel along the Golan Heights—at its nearest point about 23 miles from Damascus—has been embarrassingly quiet compared to the Jordan River or the Suez Canal. But political sources say this is changing.

There have been six clashes with Israel in the past 12 days involving machine guns, mortars and artillery. More can be expected, informants say.

Crash Kills Area Man In Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania State Police continued investigation today into a three-car collision in the northwestern part of the state early Sunday which claimed the life of an Industry man and injured three others.

Joseph Benedict McLean, 30, of Pine Grove Rd. was fatally injured in the collision on Route 8 near Port Allegany where he and two companions had gone for a weekend turkey hunt.

He died at 6 a.m. yesterday of a crushed chest and fractured neck suffered in the mishap at 3:30 a.m. Police said the area was heavily shrouded with fog at the time.

Bruno (Nick) Porter Jr. of Midland Heights, a passenger in his car, was treated at Port Allegany Community Hospital and released.

Officers said McLean's auto was struck head-on by a westbound car operated by Frank Forman, 54, of Trafford, Pa., then was hit from behind by a

Court To Name Counsel

Hearing Due Wednesday For Beauty Shop Robbery

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Wednesday for Harold Bevell Raver, 38, of Baltimore in Fairfield County, charged with taking $280 and four wigs in a holdup of the Wells Beauty Shop on Market St. Friday night.

Raver was taken before the judge this morning on charges signed by Lt. Paul Blevins and Patrolman W. F. Copestick, but no plea was entered because he lacked counsel. The judge said he will seek to have counsel appointed for the defendant by Common Pleas Court at Lisbon. He set bond at $5,000.

Police said Raver was taken into custody in the Little England area at 11:05, two hours after he took the cash and wigs from Mrs. Geneva Long of Toronto, owner of the shop. Mrs. Long said the holdup man was in and out of the shop three times in the robbery.

The first time, the man menaced her and took the currency after ordering her to lie on the floor and not to move for three minutes. He also ripped the telephone off the wall, she said. He went outside, then returned and kicked her on the side of the head, warning that: "If you identify me, I will kill you," she told officers.

The man returned again, took the change from the cash drawer and went outside. When he returned for the last time, he snatched a wig off the propri-

City's Spring Cleanup Will Start On May 12

The incinerator department will launch the annual two-week citywide spring cleanup drive on Monday, May 12, to haul away the winter accumulation of trash and debris for householders who have cleaned their cellars, attics, lawns and gardens, Supt. John A. Melvin said today.

Following the usual trash schedules, the campaign will continue through Friday, May 23. The drive will start on so-called Route 3, in the North Side-Park Blvd. - Beechwood area.

Melvin said the preliminary announcement was issued to allow householders to begin their annual cleanups in advance of the collection. Detailed schedules will be issued as the drive progresses.

Syria Ends Cease-Fire With Israel

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria is beginning to shoot at Israel after almost two years of sitting on the sidelines of the Middle East conflict.

But at the same time, in a paradox typical of the ruling Baath party, the government of President Noureddin Atassi is showing increasing interest in a political settlement of the Arab-Israeli war.

Since the six-day war of 1967, Syria has taken pains to sound more extremist than other Arab countries. It repeatedly called for a "war of popular liberation" against Israel but did nothing afterward.

Syria's cease-fire line with Israel along the Golan Heights—at its nearest point about 28 miles from Damascus—has been embarrassingly quiet compared to the Jordan River or the Suez Canal. But political sources say this is changing.

There have been six clashes with Israel in the past 12 days involving machine guns, mortars and artillery. More can be expected, informants say.

6 Thefts, 4 Vandalism Cases Checked In City On Weekend

Six thefts — most of them minor — and four vandalism cases were reported to East Liverpool police over the weekend.

An intruder entered the Jones TV Store at 514 Mulberry St. between 12:30 a. m. and 4:11 p. m. Sunday by breaking a window on the east side of the building and took a radio and a 19-inch television set, officers said. Willie Jones of 1216 Erie St. was listed as the owner.

An entry also was reported at the Adkins Service Station on Harvey Ave., owned by Ruel Adkins, but police said it was not determined if anything was missing. The building was entered between 9 p.m. Friday and 9 a. m. Saturday by breaking a window in a door facing on Harvey Ave., officers said.

Willis Johnston of 176 Ravine St. told police Saturday night a web-type green and white chair valued at $15 was stolen from a porch at his home sometime in the preceding week.

The management of The Review told officers Saturday morning a vandal broke the windshield of a truck parked at the newspaper plant sometime in the preceding week or 10 days. In addition, a 24-by-12-inch window was broken in a garage door at the newspaper plant Friday night.

Bicycle thefts were reported by two East End householders. Mrs. George Franczek of 930 St. George St. told officers a thief took her son's bicycle from the front porch at her home about 1 a. m. today. Mrs. Jane Bates of 532 Maple St. reported her son's bicycle was stolen from their home Sunday about 7:30 p.m.

Charles Bailey of 534 1st Ave. reported to police both headlight rims were stolen from his 1965 model auto while it was parked in front of his home Saturday.

Vandals were blamed for smashing windows at two Ravine St. homes Sunday night.

Mrs. John Jones of rear 152 Ravine St. said a half brick crashed through the front door at her home at 10:39, breaking two panes of glass 6-by-14 inches.

Mrs. Olive Johnston of 172 Ravine St. reported a stone wrapped in a piece of cloth was hurled through a 42-by-43-inch window in her livingroom at 9:58 p.m.

Henry Paglisgotti of Pine Grove Rd., Beaver, told officers his estranged wife, Rita, hurled a stone which broke the windshield of his 1965 model auto Sunday night at 8:30 in the 1400 block of Ridge Alley.

Speedboat Driver Dies After Mishap

He suffered internal injuries Saturday when his tunnel engine craft turned over on Black River during a 35-mile marathon race sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association.

Election Reform Still In Doubt

The House Judiciary Committee's adoption of a constitutional amendment guaranteeing the election of a presidential candidate with the most votes is a small victory for the Electorial College reform movement.

The 28-6 vote was historic because no other proposal involving direct popular election of a president has ever been reported before.

HOWEVER, A PROVISION that could make the amendment effective after the 1972 election indicates how careful congressmen are in tampering with the election process.

To become effective, the amendment must get the approval of Congress and then be ratified by three-fourths of the states.

The delaying provision calls for the new election system to become effective "one year after the 21st day of January following ratification."

Thus it would apply to the 1972 election only if ratified no later than Jan. 20, 1971. The likelihood of 38 states ratifying the measure in time for it to be applicable in the next presidential election is remote.

The amendment would supplant the electoral system with a direct election of a president and would require a runoff election if no candidate received 40 per cent of the vote.

The fact that implementation of direct elections would waken the political influence of states with small populations places a formiable obstacle in the pathway to ratification

LAST NOVEMBER when it looked as if the election decision might be thrown into the House of Representatives, most everyone could see the validity of direct elections.

Now that the scare has been obscured by the fact that a crisis was averted, thoughts have turned to relative political influence and accompanying disadvantage of election reform.

The decline in election reform interest is unfortunate. Sufficient time remains before the 1972 election to work out a satisfactory reform program. It should not be wasted.

Practical Decision

Emotional appeals have strong impact in election campaigns, but the average voter in East Liverpool has a sense of practicality which keeps this city on an even financial and political keel.

The obvious need to retain the two existing school levies in order to operate the education system should be the clincher in Tuesday's balloting.

We didn't build $5.8 million worth of schools to let the kids down at this stage of the game.

We believe those citizens who have given two minutes of honest thought to the basic issue involved in tomorrow's election will recognize the only really practical decision to make.

Last Resort In Middle East

The festering sore which is the Middle East continues to become more and more inflamed. And none of the world's "doctors" seem able to heal it.

Armed clashes are occuring with ever greater frequency. commando and terrorist raids are penetrating deeper into enemy territory and the manifestations of and repercussions from hatred are mounting throughout this desperately troubled area of the world.

Retaliation follows retaliation with a compounding effect that constantly lowers the threshold over which World War III could enter.

WITH THE HEADS of state of the disputing nations talking both bellicosely and with great seriousness, the prospect for peace in the Arab-Israeli conflict grows ever dimmer.

The tit-for-tat complex of the fighting apparently has been both recognized and accepted by the combatants as a prestige matter. This in itself is an escalation factor of exceeding danger.

Meanwhile, the United Nations' peace-keeping units have been totaly incapable of halting the inflammatory actions of either side. And so far the Big Four nations—the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France—have had no more success in cooling off the tempers of the Arabs and Israelis.

For the incidents go on, the fighting goes on, more lives are lost, more blood is spilled, even more enmity develops and the job of restoring peace becomes incredibly more difficult.

Perhaps, if another full-scale war between the Middle East nations seems inevitable, and in view of the seeming inability of any nation or group of nations to restore peace, it would be wise for the Big Four Nations and, hopefully, all other nations to dramatically sign an agreement declaring that no signatory would, in any way, assist either of the warring nations—provided no other nation did.

This would allow the Arabs and Israelis to settle their own particular grievances militarily, since it seems they will not do so by negotiation. It would tend to isolate the fighting in that particular arena with the result that the fires of war would burn themselves out more quickly and without involving other countries.

GETTING SUCH AN agreement between the Soviet Union and the Western nations might be exceedingly difficult in view of the massive support Russia already has given the Arabs and the aid the Western nations have given Israel.

But, if there is, indeed, any sincerity on the part of these nations when they speak of desiring peace, an agreement to keep "hands off" the fighting in the Middle East should not be unobtainable.

Certainly it is preferable to involvement in World War III.

Regional ETV: A Good Idea

Provincial outlooks and money problems could cost northeastern Ohio a fine educational television (ETV) station.

Akron, Youngstown and Kent State universities have applied to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) for licenses to establish ETV stations.

The rub is there are only two UHF channels available.

In an effort to solve the issue, the Ohio Board of Regents hired a consultant as mediator.

The consultant, Jack G. McBride of the Nebraska Educational Television Commission, recommended a consortium be established by the trio of universities to set up and operate a regional station.

The facility would operate on 1 million watts and transmit in color.

Both Youngstown and Akron university officials are opposed to the regional approach and are holding out for individual stations.

Kent State officials like the consortium suggestion feeling it would offer a higher quality operation than smaller stations.

The Board of Regents will consider the consortium proposal this month and hopefully will go for it to avoid needless deuplication and provide northeastern Ohio with a top-flight ETV station.

Funds for updating the Ohio ETV network are being held up as officials assess the state's current financial status.

If the $12-million supplemental appropriation bill ever gets out of the Ohio House finance committee, the portion of it that would be spent in northeastern Ohio would be put to the best use by investment in a regional ETV station.

Musings From Max

A member of our family who refuses to watch reruns on TV has a hard time with commercials because somebody always says, "This is a rerun, we saw it before."

The director of the U.S. Mint says there is a shortage of pennies and more should be coined. And here all our life we thought it was dollars there was a shortage of.

The resignation of President Charles de Gaulle appears to have removed him at least temporarily as a topic of conversation. Adieu mon general. Or maybe we should say au revoir.

A state official is reported frowned upon by many other of his party's leaders because of his outspokenness on controversial issues. That is no way for a successful politician to act. Reminds us of a sheriff we heard about during the prohibition era who outraged even his own party leaders by his vigorous enforcement of that unpopular law.

Possibly an unforeseen effect of the federal requirement for nondiscrimination in hiring by industries with federal contracts will be an upgrading in the education of blacks because industry is forced to hire them and needs educated employes. It may improve the education of whites, too.

We sometimes wonder if TV in Germany and Japan has a bunch of shows which picture American soldiers and spies as a bunch of dolts, as our TV usually pictures theirs.

Backyard bomb shelters haven't been mentioned in the news for a year or two. You'd expect a few at least would be offered for sale in the classified ads.

A couple of weeks or so ago we mentioned how difficult it is for owners on copyrighted names to make sure the names are capitalized when used in newspapers or magazines—like Coke, Realtor, Mace and Crackerjack. Here are a few older words which no doubt once were capitalized but through usage are now now: mackinaw, scotch, paisley, donnybrook, caesarian, macadam, phaeton, philistine and china.

It is good to hear that the administration in Washington will try to do something about the Mafia infiltrating legitimate business. Things are tough enough without having gangsters gyp us.

Jokes about Lord Snowdon, husband of Britain's Princess Margaret, being in the doghouse because he moved from Kensington Palace into a 12-foot, $864 touring trailer to prepare himself as a judge at a trailer show have one big fault. Who can afford an $864 doghouse? Come to think of it, maybe his lordship can.

Odd Facts

More than 150,000 new and different words and brand names have been added to the American language by manufacturers through their newspaper, radio and TV commercial advertising.

The use of quinine in the treatment of malaria is generally credited to the Spanish Jesuit priests who lived in Peru during the 1600's.

"How Could You Do This To Us!"

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor's Banana Currency

WASHINGTON — The other day one weary wit, shutting his government office at midnight, suggested that SDS should stand for Slow Down Society—because the building and construction trades unions are restructuring society at their own pace and pay, now within a few pennies of $10 an hour in many areas.

Victor Riesel

At this rate, the cost of even a lean-to will be so prohibitive the nation had better not work itself into a depression which would create a demand for 1930 vintage shantytowns.

This is renewal time for 550 major contracts — and the union demands are awesome. In Kansas City, the ironworkers union has been demanding a one-year wage increase of $4 an hour, or, on a 40-hour basis, $160 a week per man.

In Buffalo, N.Y., where the state and the community have been planning a $.18 billion project, the city has been stirred by demands for a 56.9 per cent construction trades hike over a three-year period.

After a 26-day strike in Miami, the bricklayers won a $2.85-an-hour increase (or $114 a week), bringing the average pay to $8.37 an hour in 1971. The laborers won a $100-a-week per man increase — jumping from $3.65 to $6.15 an hour.

THIRTY AND FORTY per cent wage increases above the current $5- and $6-an-hour base are as common as Molotov cocktails these days. And government officials expect that construction strikes in the next four or five weeks will be as ubiquitous as college seizures. No hysterical outlook, this. There were 977 construction strikes in 1968.

Pacts covering 400,000 skilled craftsmen expire in May and June. If the past is prelude, judge for yourself: in the past weeks, some $2.5 billion worth of road, school, housing, and commercial building have been paralyzed by walkouts of 100,000 craftsmen.

So, leaders of the Associated General Contractors are jetting over to England. There on May 12 they'll sit with the wizards of Llovd's of London to wrap up a strike insurance policy.

It won't take effect this year. But arrangements will be made to stand off the 1970 assault. Contractors will be able to insure themselves for anywhere from $1,000 daily to $100,000 a day for a maximum of 60 days Premiums will run from $3,000 to $360,000.

According to the Will Rogers-ish executive director of the AGC, William Dunn, the formal strike insurance policy will be tailored to the needs of contractors big and small, depending on the overhead and size of the business.

"THERE WILL BE a board of advisors," says the harassed Mr. Dunn, "which will decide whether there is a bona fide strike, when the payments should be made by Lloyd's. Someone has to decide and certify a stoppage, and the committee will be made up of people in our industry. We expect some 5,000 to 6,000 firms, doing some $20 billion annually, to sight up for this insurance."

It's expensive, but the contractors say they're up against a brick wall—and so is the nation.

They point to what their fellow contractor Red Blount said just before President Nixon named him Postmaster General.

". . . Settlements have been reached in cty after city of 30 to 40 per cent per year," he asserted. "This sounds like some of the inflation - generating increases in some of the Latin-American countries."

Mr. Blount is a careful man, even if you don't get your mail on time. He meant what he said about banana currency. Contractors, who never "poormouth" it, are horrified by the wage charts.

AND THEY WARN that the public should be, too.

Carl M. Halvorson, president of the Associated General Contractors, has charged the building trades with being an "elite corps" doing damage to the rest of the labor movement and the working public. The building unions insist on wages that are out of line with what other workers get for the same skills.

"Thus school teachers, auto workers, policemen must all work longer hours to be able to pay for the increased cost of housing and schools and hospitals that result from construction workers' higher labor costs," says Halvorson.

Privately, other labor leaders cuss out the local construction union officials who set wage standards which can't be met, or paid, in the rest of industry. The rank and file storms into union halls bearing tales of what some brother-in-law or neighbor gets as an increase in his local bricklaying, masonry, carpentry or steamfitting ($10.45 an hour in St. Louis) fields. Who in the soft goods, or mass production, or service trades can match a $100-a-week raise or a $10-an-hour cost package?

So the construction contractors have decided to fight back. Not only have they worked up the strike insurance policy for next year, but they have wired President Nixon urging him to mobilize the cabinet for a series of meetings with the construction union presidents.

They want help now. They may be tough, callous-handed captains of their $90 billion construction industry, but theirs is a live and let live philosophy.

The nation might well watch this struggle & if it doesn't want to live on banana currency one of these days.

Equal Rights For Workers

WASHINGTON — With all the hullabaloo in recent years about "civil rights" and "equal rights," it's incredible that nothing has been done by Congress to spare individuals the hostility and even penalties they suffer for refusing to join a labor union.

Again and again, bills have been offered in Congress to safeguard the "right to work" and the right to refrain from joining a union if one desires. Many letters have been received by this writer telling of the intimidation undergone by persons who cross picket lines or decline to join a union.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., Democrat of North Carolina, who used to be a State Supreme Court justice, has again introduced a bill calling for Senate action to protect the rights of workers. He said to the Senate:

"SINCE THE National Labor Relations Board and the Supreme Court nullified the chief objectives of the Taft-Hartley Act in the Allis-Chalmers case, unions have imposed fines on members which, in some cases, have run to as high as $20,000. In the Allis-Chalmers case, and in other instances, these fines have been imposed for working during a strike.

"Now, in the Scofield case, the Supreme Court has ruled that it is not an unfair labor practice for a union to impose a fine for exceeding union-imposed production quotas — which is the same as union-imposed quotas on the amount of money a man can earn . . .

"I introduced an adendment last year during the civil rights debate, similar to the bill I introduce today. . .

"Bills have been introduced for years seeking to reverse the decisions which permit union fines but so far no hearings have ever been held or even scheduled by the responsible committees.'

Complaints of workers are numerous. One woman writes as follows:

"From the first day I came with the company until now, there hasn't been a single day go by that two or three union members haven't been by to see me on the job and impress that fact upon me that I must join their union.

They have told me repeatedly that those who do not join are "really given the treatment' and don't last long — they tell of how they 'ran off so-and-so' because she or he didn't join. They tell how badly the bosses treat those who aren't in the union because they know they can get away with it as the employe doesn't have the union to protect him."

Congress, in writing the Taft-Hartley Act, permitted the states to adopt laws prohibiting compulsory union membership and some have done so. But in other states the federal law's provision allowing "union shop" contracts often compel workers to join a union.

What is the reason for the reluctance of Congress to pass a law which will give citizens in one state the same rights as residents of another state and do away with enforced unionization? It must be assumed that the legislators in Congress and in many of the states are afraid of the political power of labor unions.

Large sums of money are raised by organized effort among union members to help elect those candidates who are ready to do the bidding of labor-union leaders. Although the federal Corrupt Practices Act says clearly that neither corporations nor labor unions can contribute money to the campaigns of candidates for federal office, the unions have found ways of circumventing the law

CONGRESS IS WELL AWARE of what has been happening but has done nothing about it.

"Equal rights" has been widely publicized as a meritorious cause and the word "discrimination" has frequently been used to deplore any form of inequality as between individuals. But the fact is that those persons who decline to join a union often find themselves harassed.

Maybe Sen. Ervin's attempt to get Congress to give equal rights to workers in America will get some attention. It might even lead to the enactment of a law on the subject if President Nixon lends his support to the proposed legislation. For it would mean a resoration of rights taken away from the citizens by the National Labor Relations Board and the Supreme Court.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A four-day heat wave that sent the mercury near the 90 mark here and higher elsewhere in Ohio ended when a mass of cool air hit the area.

Wanda Huston was elected president of the Calcutta Busy Girls 4-H Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — A multi-million-dollar expansion program for the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. was announced by Joel Hunter, president.

A total of $467 was collected during the Wellsville Cancer Fund campaign, William Bush, chairman, announced.

Election Reform Still In Doubt

The House Judiciary Committee's adoption of a constitutional amendment guaranteeing the election of a presidential candidate with the most votes is a small victory for the Electorial College reform movement.

The 28-6 vote was historic because no other proposal involving direct popular election of a president has ever been reported before.

HOWEVER, A PROVISION that could make the amendment effective after the 1972 election indicates how careful congressmen are in tampering with the election process.

To become effective, the amendment must get the approval of Congress and then be ratified by three-fourths of the states.

The delaying provision calls for the new election system to become effective "one year after the 21st day of January following ratification."

Thus it would apply to the 1972 election only if ratified no later than Jan. 20, 1971. The likelihood of 38 states ratifying the measure in time for it to be applicable in the next presidential election is remote.

The amendment would supplant the electoral system with a direct election of a president and would require a runoff election if no candidate received 40 per cent of the vote.

The fact that implementation of direct elections would waken the political influence of states with small populations places a formiable obstacle in the pathway to ratification

LAST NOVEMBER when it looked as if the election decision might be thrown into the House of Representatives, most everyone could see the validity of direct elections.

Now that the scare has been obscured by the fact that a crisis was averted, thoughts have turned to relative political influence and accompanying disadvantage of election reform.

The decline in election reform interest is unfortunate. Sufficient time remains before the 1972 election to work out a satisfactory reform program. It should not be wasted.

Practical Decision

Emotional appeals have strong impact in election campaigns, but the average voter in East Liverpool has a sense of practicality which keeps this city on an even financial and political keel.

The obvious need to retain the two existing school levies in order to operate the education system should be the clincher in Tuesday's balloting.

We didn't build $5.8 million worth of schools to let the kids down at this stage of the game.

We believe those citizens who have given two minutes of honest thought to the basic issue involved in tomorrow's election will recognize the only really practical decision to make.

Last Resort In Middle East

The festering sore which is the Middle East continues to become more and more inflamed. And none of the world's "doctors" seem able to heal it.

Armed clashes are occuring with ever greater frequency, commando and terrorist raids are penetrating deeper into enemy territory and the manifestations of and repercussions from hatred are mounting throughout this desperately troubled area of the world.

Retaliation follows retaliation with a compounding effect that constantly lowers the threshold over which World War III could enter.

WITH THE HEADS of state of the disputing nations talking both bellicosely and with great seriousness, the prospect for peace in the Arab-Israeli conflict grows ever dimmer.

The tit-for-tat complex of the fighting apparently has been both recognized and accepted by the combatants as a prestige matter. This in itself is an escalation factor of exceeding danger.

Meanwhile, the United Nations' peace-keeping units have been totaly incapable of halting the inflammatory actions of either side. And so far the Big Four nations—the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France—have had no more success in cooling off the tempers of the Arabs and Israelis.

For the incidents go on, the fighting goes on, more lives are lost, more blood is spilled, even more enmity develops and the job of restoring peace becomes incredibly more difficult.

Perhaps, if another full-scale war between the Middle East nations seems inevitable, and in view of the seeming inability of any nation or group of nations to restore peace, it would be wise for the Big Four Nations and, hopefully, all other nations to dramatically sign an agreement declaring that no signatory would, in any way, assist either of the warring nations—provided no other nation did.

This would allow the Arabs and Israelis to settle their own particular grievances militarily, since it seems they will not do so by negotiation. It would tend to isolate the fighting in that particular arena with the result that the fires of war would burn themselves out more quickly and without involving other countries.

GETTING SUCH AN agreement between the Soviet Union and the Western nations might be exceedingly difficult in view of the massive support Russia already has given the Arabs and the aid the Western nations have given Israel.

But, if there is, indeed, any sincerity on the part of these nations when they speak of desiring peace, an agreement to keep "hands off" the fighting in the Middle East should not be unobtainable.

Certainly it is preferable to involvement in World War III.

Regional ETV: A Good Idea

Provincial outlooks and money problems could cost northeastern Ohio a fine educational television (ETV) station.

Akron, Youngstown and Kent State universities have applied to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) for licenses to establish ETV stations.

The rub is there are only two UHF channels available.

In an effort to solve the issue, the Ohio Board of Regents hired a consultant as mediator.

The consultant, Jack G. McBride of the Nebraska Educational Television Commission, recommended a consortium be established by the trio of universities to set up and operate a regional station.

The facility would operate on 1 million watts and transmit in color.

Both Youngstown and Akron university officials are opposed to the regional approach and are holding out for individual stations.

Kent State officials like the consortium suggestion feeling it would offer a higher quality operation than smaller stations.

The Board of Regents will consider the consortium proposal this month and hopefully will go for it to avoid needless deuplication and provide northeastern Ohio with a top-flight ETV station.

Funds for updating the Ohio ETV network are being held up as officials assess the state's current financial status.

If the $12-million supplemental appropriation bill ever gets out of the Ohio House finance committee, the portion of it that would be spent in northeastern Ohio would be put to the best use by investment in a regional ETV station.

Labor's Banana Currency

WASHINGTON — The other day one weary wit, shutting his government office at midnight, suggested that SDS should stand for Slow Down Society—because the building and construction trades unions are restructuring society at their own pace and pay, now within a few pennies of $10 an hour in many areas.

Victor Riesel

At this rate, the cost of even a lean-to will be so prohibitive the nation had better not work itself into a depression which would create a demand for 1930 vintage shantytowns.

This is renewal time for 550 major contracts — and the union demands are awesome. In Kansas City, the ironworkers union has been demanding a one-year wage increase of $4 an hour, or, on a 40-hour basis, $160 a week per man.

In Buffalo, N.Y., where the state and the community have been planning a $.18 billion project, the city has been stirred by demands for a 56.9 per cent construction trades hike over a three-year period.

After a 26-day strike in Miami, the bricklayers won a $2.85-an-hour increase (or $114 a week), bringing the average pay to $8.37 an hour in 1971. The laborers won a $100-a-week per man increase — jumping from $3.65 to $6.15 an hour.

THIRTY AND FORTY per cent wage increases above the current $5- and $6-an-hour base are as common as Molotov cocktails these days. And government officials expect that construction strikes in the next four or five weeks will be as ubiquitous as college seizures. No hysterical outlook, this. There were 977 construction strikes in 1968.

Pacts covering 400,000 skilled craftsmen expire in May and June. If the past is prelude, judge for yourself: in the past weeks, some $2.5 billion worth of road, school, housing, and commercial building have been paralyzed by walkouts of 100,000 craftsmen.

etor's head and also took three wigs from the shop, she said.

Officers said Raver fled on foot to the Parsons Coal Co. at E. 2nd St. and menaced John K. Brown of Wellsville RD 1 with a gun, forcing Brown to drive him to East End in his pickup truck.

Brown was forced out of his truck on Mulberry St. and the suspect continued to a point on Pennsylvania Ave. near Columbian Park, where the truck stalled. The holdup man got out of the vehicle and was working on it when a man and woman happened by, officers said.

The two were talking with the suspect when Patrolman Copestick pulled up in a cruiser. The suspect ran toward Columbian Park and the officer fired warning shots, but the man continued.

Copestick called for assistance in the search and several officers responded, including Det. William A. Devon. Lt. Blevins, Patrolmen Dwight Garvey and Charles Coen, a sheriff's department car, an Ohioville Borough officer and a St. Clair Township constable.

A few minutes later, the man entered a home in the 1500 block of Globe St. and asked the householder to take him to the hospital, claiming he was hurt. The man said he would telephone for an ambulance and went upstairs to use the telephone. The householder placed a call to the police department, but the suspect was listening in on a phone in the kitchen, so he fled again, officers said.

He next went to two homes in the Little England area and attempted to persuade the families to call an ambulance for him. About that time, Paul A. Burson,, father of Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr., spotted the man on Walters St. near Etruria St. He got out of his car and told the man to remain where he was. Burson called for help and Garvey and Coen arrived and took the man into custody.

Brown and the couple who had been talking to the driver of the disabled truck all identified Raver, police said.

School Rites Attract 400

County Welfare Department director for whom the school is named, presented a portrait of her husband to the school. Fred E. Bycroft of East Palestine, Robert's father, watched the ceremony from inside.

Mrs. Edith Martsolf of Salem, administrator of the county's program for the retarded, accepted the picture and had it hung immediately in the foyer. She said the school was a dream of the former director, who died unexpectedly in 1966.

Dr. Roger Gove, assistant commissioner of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, brought greetings and congratulations from Dr. Martin Janis, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, and from Dr. J. Wylie McGough, commissioner of the department.

DR. GOVE, former superintendent of the Columbus State Institute, said Columbiana County has done "relaively better than the average county across the state in its program for the retarded."

"I worked with Robert Bycroft," he said, "and as much as any other person he must be given credit for this building."

Dr. Gove said Mrs. Martsolf "has the broadest experience in this work of anyone in the state, and perhaps the county. She brings tremendous skill, enthusiasm and energy to this task."

James White, executive director of the Ohio Association for Retarded Children, said many of the thousands of retarded children and adults throughout Ohio can lead productive and satisfying lives.

He said many changes have been made since the state first faced up to its responsibilities to the retarded over 100 years ago "but much more must be accomplished." "We must accept the mentally retarded for what they are and for what their potential can be."

The school has 107 pupils ranging in age from 3 to 21. The Sheltered Workshop in the county office building at Lisbon employs 42 persons over 21.

County Commissioners Charles J. Gause commended the citizens for their support of the levy for the retarded, the Board of Mental Retardation for long service without pay and the many civic organizations which have helped and continue to offer assistance.

James W. Boyd, chairman of the commissioners, presented the key to Mrs. Martsolf. "We hope this will give the children a brighter outlook on life and education and training they otherwise would not get," he said.

Mrs. Ruth S. Kauffman of Lisbon, chairman of the Board of Mental Retardation, gave the welcome. She introduced Fr. John P. Kennedy of St. John's Church in Summitville and St. Patrick's Church in Salineville, who served as master of ceremonies. Fr. Kennedy is a member of the board.

OTHER board members introduced were Elwin Hawk Jr. of East Rochester, vice chairman; Eva Landwert of Salem, secretary; Dr. Alex S. Fisher of East Liverpool, Donald Hepp of Columbiana, county welfare director, and Richard D. Kennedy, Lisbon attorney.

The Rev. Donald Blom of Trinity United Presbyterian Church, Lisbon, gave the invocation. The school's own Boy Scout Troop 200 under the direction of Assistant Scoutmaster Eugene Tolson of Lisbon furnished the color guard and led the pledge of allegiance. The Rev. Daniel Keister of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Salem, pronounced the benediction.

State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon said he did not learn until yesterday that the school does not have air-conditioning. "We will see what we can do about that," he said.

Mrs. Kauffman introduced the school staff: Ann Keys, physical development specialist; Pauletta Begalla, home training worker; teachers Virginia Biggins, Lois Blom, Connie Cranmer, Ruth Diddle, Maria Myktas, Cynthia Painter, Priscilla Rardain, Janice Southall, Joan West and Lena Gibson, substitute, and Edna Glauser, clerk.

Also introduced were Richard Little, supervisor of the Sheltered Workshop; Judge Louis Tobin, a former member of the Board of Mental Retardation; Sen. Douglas Applegate of Steubenville, and John Gruszecki, former administrator of the school for retarded.

The United Commercial Travelers and sheriff's deputies handled parking and traffic, respectively, and the Nike girls, a high school group sponsored by the East Liverpool Business and Professional Womn's Club, were hostesses.

Mrs. Martsolf introduced several visitors from retarded projects in surrounding counties.

ALSO recognized were Richard Broomall, president of the Guilford Ruritan Club, which served a benefit dinner for the school this spring and helped put up the chairs yesterday, the county 4-H'ers and their parents for donating time and equipment Saturday to seed the lawn at the school and Tritten Brothers across the highway for opening their grounds for parking.

Dorothy Keast of North Lima played organ music during open house. Robert F. Beatty, East Liverpool architect, designed the building. The Riley Construction Co. of Salem, was the general contractor and the Firestone Electric Co., also of Salem, did the wiring and heating work. C. J. Little & Sons of Youngstown, had the plumbing contract.

Eighty-five 4-H'ers and 15 parents and advisers worked from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday putting in a lawn at the Robert Bycroft School west of town.

Gordon McDonald, county 4-H agent, said the County Home crew disked the soil, Elmer Knecht raked and leveled the ground, and the boys and girls picked up half a truckload of rocks.

The ground was seeded by garden tractors. Dickey Feed Mill, Brubb Bros. Lime Spreading Service and Oland Baker cooperated in providing materials and services to seed the 3½-acre yard.

etor's head and also took three wigs from the shop, she said.

Officers said Raver fled on foot to the Parsons Coal Co. at E. 2nd St. and menaced John K. Brown of Wellsville RD 1 with a gun, forcing Brown to drive him to East End in his pickup truck.

Brown was forced out of his truck on Mulberry St. and the suspect continued to a point on Pennsylvania Ave. near Columbian Park, where the truck stalled. The holdup man got out of the vehicle and was working on it when a man and woman happened by, officers said.

The two were talking with the suspect when Patrolman Copestick pulled up in a cruiser. The suspect ran toward Columbian Park and the officer fired warning shots, but the man continued.

Copestick called for assistance in the search and several officers responded, including Det. William A. Devon. Lt. Blevins, Patrolmen Dwight Garvey and Charles Coen, a sheriff's department car, an Ohioville Borough officer and a St. Clair Township constable.

A few minutes later, the man entered a home in the 1500 block of Globe St. and asked the householder to take him to the hospital, claiming he was hurt. The man said he would telephone for an ambulance and went upstairs to use the telephone. The householder placed a call to the police department, but the suspect was listening in on a phone in the kitchen, so he fled again, officers said.

He next went to two homes in the Little England area and attempted to persuade the families to call an ambulance for him. About that time, Paul A. Burson,, father of Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr., spotted the man on Walters St. near Etruria St. He got out of his car and told the man to remain where he was. "I worked with Robert Bycroft," he said, "and as much as any other person he must be given credit for this building."

Dr. Gove said Mrs. Martsolf "has the broadest experience in this work of anyone in the state, and perhaps the county. She brings tremendous skill, enthusiasm and energy to this task."

James White, executive director of the Ohio Association for Retarded Children, said many of the thousands of retarded children and adults throughout Ohio can lead productive and satisfying lives.

He said many changes have been made since the state first faced up to its responsibilities to the retarded over 100 years ago "but much more must be accomplished." "We must accept the mentally retarded for what they are and for what their potential can be."

The school has 107 pupils ranging in age from 3 to 21. The Sheltered Workshop in the county office building at Lisbon employs 42 persons over 21.

County Commissioners Charles J. Gause commended the citizens for their support of the levy for the retarded, the Board of Mental Retardation for long service without pay and the many civic organizations which have helped and continue to offer assistance.

James W. Boyd, chairman of the commissioners, presented the key to Mrs. Martsolf. "We hope this will give the children a brighter outlook on life and education and training they otherwise would not get," he said.

Mrs. Ruth S. Kauffman of Lisbon, chairman of the Board of Mental Retardation, gave the welcome. She introduced Fr. John P. Kennedy of St. John's Church in Summitville and St. Patrick's Church in Salineville, who served as master of ceremonies. Fr. Kennedy is a member of the board.

The United Commercial Travelers and sheriff's deputies handled parking and traffic, respectively, and the Nike girls, a high school group sponsored by the East Liverpool Business and Professional Womn's Club, were hostesses.

Mrs. Martsolf introduced several visitors from retarded projects in surrounding counties.

ALSO recognized were Richard Broomall, president of the Guilford Ruritan Club, which served a benefit dinner for the school this spring and helped put up the chairs yesterday, the county 4-H'ers and their parents for donating time and equipment Saturday to seed the lawn at the school and Tritten Brothers across the highway for opening their grounds for parking.

100 Acres Burn In Brush Blaze At Highlandtown

Some 100 men from several area departments and Civil Defense units fought a blaze that burned some 100 acres in the Highlandtown area Sunday afternoon and night.

A rubbish fire is believed to have been responsible.

Highlantown Fire Chief Donald Boyd said the fire started on property recently purchased "by a Mr. Bonitati" and spread throughout the area.

The Highlandtown department had 12 men at the scene, Wellsville 11, East Liverpool Civil Defense 21 and Irondale, Salineville, Alliance and other areas volunteers aided.

Ronald Wathv and Robert McIntosh of the State Forestry Division were also on hand.

Boyd said the first call was received about 12:30 p.m., with the blaze already raging for about two hours.

Men were still at the scene at midnight, and some returned this morning.

Boyd said water had to be carried in tanks, since trucks could not penetrate the area.

The precinct workers will make the first count of the levy results immediately after the voting ends, then telephone the figures to the board's office. Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Project Breakthrough" to stimulate home building and easier mortgage conditions for trailer home owners have been announced by George Romney, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Project Breakthrough "is a new Project. It goes beyond just technology. It gets into the question of the best use of land and tapping new sources of money," Romney said.

The plan will bring together governors, mayors and representatives from the building trades, builders, and industrial firms interested in housing, he said without elaborating further.

Romney appeared on the ABC program "Issues and Answers."

The Nixon administration will push for 40-year, 90-per cent FHA mortgage insurance on trailers, home sites ,Romney said. Presently, the FHA insures on a 15 year basis for 75 per cent of the cost.

Romney added, "I think that achieving a real breakthrough in housing, getting a lot of new housing for low and moderate income families—and other families too—is about the best way we can stimulate the overall improvement in our cities."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today he has nominated for a major public service award an Air Force official that revaled money troubles in the C5A transport program.

The senator said A. E. Fitzgerald deserves the award because he "made the first public disclosure of the $2 billion cost overrun incurred by Lockheed (Aircraft Corp.) on the C5A."

The nomination is for the 1969 Rockefeller Public Service Award.

Fitzgerald is deputy of management systems in the office of the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force. He had testified before Proxmire's committee investigating the C5A program.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Micronesians have been promised a larger voice in the affairs of their 2,100 islands, known as the "Trust Territories" and administered by the United States since World War II.

Secretary of Interior Walter Hickel spoke to some 3,500 persons on Saipan Island Sunday, saying he has also ordered a speed-up for $40 million in government projects already authorized for the islands.

As reported here, Hickel added that Micronesian products would be given duty-free status in this country.

"For years you have had little voice in your government," Hickel said. "This is wrong. You will be brought into the planning and decision processes as full and equal participants with American personnel."

America's administration of the islands has been criticized in the United Nations and many Micronesians have long asked for more aid.

It's technically against the federal lottery law, but post office officials say there should be no problem for two wives of senators who won their bers at the Kentucky Derby, but left with President Nixon's party before collecting. It can be done by mail if no one lodges a formal complaint, the post office explained.

Welfare Fund Fraud Found

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A five month investigation of Franklin County welfare programs has turned up 92 cases of forgery and 87 cases of larceny by trick, according to State Auditor Roger Cloud.

Cloud reported his investigators also uncovered 1,000 cases of unresolved overpayment situations.

Cloud said that in every month included in his office's probe there were numerous cases of double payments for recipients who claimed they had not received a check. In nearly every case, the original check was ultimately cashed, he said.

The report said some of the double payments were caused by collusion between several recipients, outright falsehood and thefts from mailboxes.

But Cloud also blamed the county welfare department for processing replacement checks without full investigation of whether the person had actually failed to receive the check and for failing to update changes in mailing addresses of recipients.

Four Drown In Allegheny

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two unidentified couples drowned Sunday night when their boat crashed into a dam on the Allegheny River and capsized.

Police said the boat was rented by two girls and two men from Red Gallo at the Thirteenth St. dock in Sharpsburg.

Two witnesses, Edward and Bruce McCloskey of Bloomfield, were fishing on the side of the river.

"The boat came up the river and seemed to get close to the dam," said Edward. "Then it backed away. Then I heard two loud noises. Suddenly, the boat shot up in the air and upset.

When the boat was towed to the landing, its bow was smashed on the right side, apparently where it crashed into the No. 2 dam near the Highland Park Bridge.

Tests Slated On Youth In Spider Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Medical tests are expected to show definitely whether a suspected poisonous spider bite was the actual cause of the death of 5-year-old Todd Quester of Amherst.

The boy was reported bitten by a brown recluse spider April 17, went into a coma at Babies and Childrens Hospital here April 20 and died Sunday without regaining consciousness.

However, a pediatrician at the hospital said it did not appear that a spider bite caused the youngster's death.

It was not until several days after the reported bite that the brown recluse spider was suspected as the cause of Todd's ailment. Anti-venom serum for such a bite was flown here from Sao Paulo, Brazil, April 24, but doctors said at that time so much time had elapsed they feared the serum might not do much good.

A few days after the serum was administered, Todd's condition worsened seriously, and he was placed on a respirator to help his breathing.

His condition continued to deteriorate until his death.

Doctors said there had been some brain damage. The immediate cause of death was listed as "cardiac arrest."

A hospital spokesman said results of tests made to try to pinpoint the caust were not yet complete.

Todd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quester, were at his side when he died.

A "blab school," mentioned in one of the biographies of Abraham Lincoln, was an elementary school, usually with several grades in a single room, in which pupils studied aloud and recited in unison.

TOMORROW, MAY 6 IS THE

GENERAL ELECTION

OF

International Officers

It could be the first time, in at least 85 years, that NO office will be filled by a Potter. All 12 positions could be filled by people from Sanitary Locals. Many potters do not know what is made at Sanitary Plants. They make approximately 12 different items, such as bathtubs, toilets, sinks, etc. They make only items associated with bathrooms. It is impossible to think they could know the problems we face in dinnerware potteries where one set of dishes consists of more items. One area pottery makes more than 3,000 different items.

How can these people represent us properly?

Let's look at the last wage contracts:

Generalware potters received six cents (6c) per hour raise in 1968, six cents, 1969, six cents in 1970. Did you like this contract? Were you satisfied? Chinaware got seven cents (7c) per hour, three (3) weeks vacation pay, after 15 years, funeral pay, jury duty pay. Some sanitary workers make as high as $80.00 per day. Their pension plan pays 10 times more per month. WHY? There are now nine (9) members from sanitary holding office in the I.B.O.P. They chaired General wares Contract negotiations.

If you are satisfied with your wages and working conditions, don't vote. If you are Not Satisfied, go vote, for a change. There is a powerful, sleeping giant of a vote in this area. Approx. 5,000 votes. Sure, it may inconvenience you for an hour or so, but remember, — You will have four (4) years to gripe and complain. Tomorrow is the day you can have your say as to who you want to represent you. | |

There are voting places at the four local potteries and at Headquarters on 6th Street. USE THEM ! ! !

Candidates from this locality are from Locals No. 9, 33, 44, 86, 124, and 320.

Cut this article out of the paper, put it in your lunch sack, so you will be reminded to VOTE!

Show the rest of the International that this area is still alive and fighting.

Tests Slated On Youth In Spider Death

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Medical tests are expected to show definitely whether a suspected poisonous spider bite was the actual cause of the death of 5-year-old Todd Quester of Amherst.

The boy was reported bitten by a brown recluse spider April 17, went into a coma at Babies and Childrens Hospital here April 20 and died Sunday without regaining consciousness.

However, a pediatrician at the hospital said it did not appear that a spider bite caused the youngster's death.

It was not until several days after the reported bite that the brown recluse spider was suspected as the cause of Todd's ailment. Anti-venom serum for such a bite was flown here from Sao Paulo, Brazil, April 24, but doctors said at that time so much time had elapsed they feared the serum might not do much good.

A few days after the serum was administered, Todd's condition worsened seriously, and he was placed on a respirator to help his breathing.

His condition continued to deteriorate until his death.

Doctors said there had been some brain damage. The immediate cause of death was listed as "cardiac arrest."

A hospital spokesman said results of tests made to try to pinpoint the caust were not yet complete.

Todd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quester, were at his side when he died.

A "blab school," mentioned in one of the biographies of Abraham Lincoln, was an elementary school, usually with several grades in a single room, in which pupils studied aloud and recited in unison.

TOMORROW, MAY 6 IS THE

OF

International Officers

It could be the first time, in at least 85 years, that NO office will be filled by a Potter. All 12 positions could be filled by people from Sanitary Locals. Many potters do not know what is made at Sanitary Plants. They make approximately 12 different items, such as bathtubs, toilets, sinks, etc. They make only items associated with bathrooms. It is impossible to think they could know the problems we face in dinnerware potteries where one set of dishes consists of more items. One area pottery makes more than 3,000 different items.

How can these people represent us properly?

Let's look at the last wage contracts:

Generalware potters received six cents (6c) per hour raise in 1968, six cents, 1969, six cents in 1970. Did you like this contract? Were you satisfied? Chinaware got seven cents (7c) per hour, three (3) weeks vacation pay, after 15 years, funeral pay, jury duty pay. Some sanitary workers make as high as $80.00 per day. Their pension plan pays 10 times more per month. WHY? There are now nine (9) members from sanitary holding office in the I.B.O.P. They chaired General wares Contract negotiations.

If you are satisfied with your wages and working conditions, don't vote. If you are Not Satisfied, go vote, for a change. There is a powerful, sleeping giant of a vote in this area. Approx. 5,000 votes. Sure, it may inconvenience you for an hour or so, but remember, — You will have four (4) years to gripe and complain. Tomorrow is the day you can have your say as to who you want to represent you. | |

There are voting places at the four local potteries and at Headquarters on 6th Street. USE THEM ! ! !

Candidates from this locality are from Locals No. 9, 33, 44, 86, 124, and 320.

Cut this article out of the paper, put it in your lunch sack, so you will be reminded to VOTE!

Show the rest of the International that this area is still alive and fighting.

Firemen School Ends At Calcutta

The annual school sponsored by the Columbiana County Firemen's Association was concluded Sunday with sessions at the Calcutta station.

The opening classes were held April 27 at the station.

The Calcutta Volunteer Fire Department played host to some 190 firemen during the two days.

Twenty - three departments were represented — from Columbiana County, Midland, Newell and Warren, Plymouth Township, Bedford Heights and Loudonville in Ohio.

Each Sunday there were three classes of three hours each, with eight instructors headed by Charles J. Getz of the training and instruction division at Columbus.

—:—

DISCUSSIONS during the two Sundays included: "Firefighting — Chemicals and Transports," John C. McKinley, safety director of Cabot Titania, Inc., of Ashtabula. He placed stress on chemicals that burn and those that extinguish fires and safe transportation.

"Pumps," Assistant Chief Robert Lloyd of Wellsville. The pumps' importance, their use and their care were emphasized. Members of the class simulated the use of hose nozzles.

"Gas Masks," Capt. Fred Richards, Assistant Chief Ray Niemi and Capt. Roger Hernon of the Warren department.

After classroom instruction, members used masks in a smoke - filled house to demonstrate rescue methods. Team work was emphasized as essential. The fastest time recorded for donning a mask and oxygen tank was 1 minute, 36 seconds. Smoke bombs were employed in the tests.

"Hazardous Materials In Plastic Industries," Capt. Gene Gehri of Bedford Heights.

He emphasized inspection and proper housekeeping as important in preventing fires.

The captain pointed out that 250 flammable liquids are used in the plastic industry and demonstrated how plastics burn and how explosions can occur through mixing of peroxides.

Gerhri cited the need for an up-to-date method of communication among fire departments, industry and property owners.

He concluded with, "Three causes of fires are men, women and children through their failure to act correctly in prevention."

Capt. Gehri's son Timothy assisted his father by distributing material in conjunction with the lecture.

—:—

IN A summary of the two Sunday classes, both officers and rank-and-file members agreed that "better service to the various communities" is inevitable as a result of the additional training.

All fire department members are to meet at the air freight station of the Greater Pittsburgh Airport May 18 at 10 a.m., with a tour to be conducted by Chief Lou Benish of the Air Force.

Official Supports Negro Education

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Programs to move Negroes into the mainstream of American life should be developed "on a crash basis if necessary," the next president of Ohio University told students Sunday.

Claude R. Sowle, who will become president Aug. 1, told students that "universities have a distinct obligation to promote widespread educational opportunities for black people."

The 40-year-old Sowle currently is dean of the school of law at the University of Cincinnati.

Speaking on disruptive campus demonstrations, Sowle said "A university has no alternative but to use any and all resources necessary to keep functioning in its responsibility of educating students.

"Students have the right to have a vital say in the operation of a university and, if need be, to conduct peaceful demonstrations to underscore that right."

Navy Fitting New Escort Destroyer

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — The Navy is equipping for duty the destroyer escort USS Harold E. Holt, named for the late Australian prime minister.

Holt died Dec. 17, 1967 when he was s swept out to sea while swimming near Melbourne. The vessel was christened Saturday by his widow, Dame Zara Bate, now married to a member of the Australian Parliament. It is tht first U.S. Navy ship named for a contemporary foreign leader.

Pledges Forward Action

Wilson Warns Rebels Of British Labor Party

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson told the rebels in his Labor party Sunday they won't divert his government from its task of trying to put the British economy in the black.

Addressing opponents of his antistrike legislation who launched a "Wilson must go" campaign last week, the British leader said: "I know what is going on. I am going on. Your government is going on.

"I do not intend to allow this government to be diverted from its task by petty divisions on policies, procedures and personalities."

He got rousing cheers from 1,500 supporters at a party rally, drowning out scattered heckling.

Wilson warned rebellious factons in the party: "If this Labor movement insists on weakening itself by divisive action, the only beneficiaries will be the Tories, and I mean the possibility of a Tory government elected as a result of our divisions."

Unpopular austerity measures and proposed legislation to curb wildcat strikes are "priorities of government against an economic badkground, against a world background, which has been changing rapidly for the past 20 years," Wilson said.

"The Tories never faced up to that change. That is why we have inherited the continuing problem of paying our way in the world," he declared.

The government's restrictions on wages and spending have brought the Labor government's popularity to its lowest ebb in five years. And its attempt to curb crippling wildcat strikes has enraged trade unionists and leftwingers who get up in arms at any interference with union rights.

Labor stalwarts appear to be in for a major disaster this week in the election of local councilmen in 320 boroughs and more than 400 urban districts of England and Wales, and in 196 boroughs in Scotland. Forecasts indicate the party stands to lose control of every British city of more than 100,000 population, its worst showing in 38 years.

The Labor party strength has declined steadily since 1964, losing 2,750 seats on local councils.

Twin Sisters Die

NEW YORK (AP)—Twin sisters, 66 years old and described by relatives as very close, plunged to their deaths Sunday from the roof of a Manhattan apartment building where one of them lived.

Police termed the deaths apparent suicides.

The bodies of the sisters, Mrs. Lillian Gros and Mrs. Edna Slater, landed simultaneously in the dirt courtyard of Mrs. Gros's apartment in Washington Heights, neighbors said.

Police said Mrs. Slater's husband died several months ago and Mrs. Gros's husband had recently been hospitalized.

Pledges Forward Action

Wilson Warns Rebels Of British Labor Party

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson told the rebels in his Labor party Sunday they won't divert his government from its task of trying to put the British economy in the black.

Addressing opponents of his antistrike legislation who launched a "Wilson must go" campaign last week, the British leader said: "I know what is going on. I am going on. Your government is going on.

"I do not intend to allow this government to be diverted from its task by petty divisions on policies, procedures and personalities."

He got rousing cheers from 1,500 supporters at a party rally, drowning out scattered heckling.

Wilson warned rebellious factons in the party: "If this Labor movement insists on weakening itself by divisive action, the only beneficiaries will be the Tories, and I mean the possibility of a Tory government elected as a result of our divisions."

Unpopular austerity measures and proposed legislation to curb wildcat strikes are "priorities of government against an economic badkground, against a world background, which has been changing rapidly for the past 20 years," Wilson said.

"The Tories never faced up to that change. That is why we have inherited the continuing problem of paying our way in the world," he declared.

The government's restrictions on wages and spending have brought the Labor government's popularity to its lowest ebb in five years. And its attempt to curb crippling wildcat strikes has enraged trade unionists and leftwingers who get up in arms at any interference with union rights.

Labor stalwarts appear to be in for a major disaster this week in the election of local councilmen in 320 boroughs and more than 400 urban districts of England and Wales, and in 196 boroughs in Scotland. Forecasts indicate the party stands to lose control of every British city of more than 100,000 population, its worst showing in 38 years.

The Labor party strength has declined steadily since 1964, losing 2,750 seats on local councils.

School Tax Seen Below 'Average'

By LUCILLE HUSTON

Are East Liverpool residents paying as much to educate the students of the district as other area schools? Is the money spent on each pupil in the district comparable with other districts in Ohio?

The total school tax rate for East Liverpool is 27.9 mills. Four Columbiana County districts pay less, with the lowest rate being 25.2 mills in Beaver Local. Five districts pay more, with the highest at Wellsville—29.9 mills. West Branch located partially in Columbiana County pays a rate of 32.5-mills.

Residents of Southern Local pay the same as East Liverpool but they are being asked to approve a bond issue for the construction and six rooms at the high school which would put the rate up to 29.1 mills.

These rates include both operating funds and bond indebtedness

Only two districts, Columbiana Village and Beaver Local, pay less than East Liverpool 20.9 mills for operating expenses. Columbiana's rate is 20 mills and Beaver Local's is 20.2.

The highest rate is at Wellsville where residents are paying 27.5 mills for operations.

If the East Liverpool 11-mill and 1-mill operating levies are not renewed on Tuesday's election, the operating funds millage would drop to 8.90, far below the average for the county.

—:—

HOW DO THESE figures compare statewide? Latest figures supplied by the Ohio State Department of Education are for the school year 1967-68. These are supplied by the Division of Computer Services and Statistical reports.

The cost per pupil of educating East Liverpool's students, figured on an average daily enrollment, is $425.81. This includes instruction costs which run $301.45 per pupil, and also health, transportation, fixed charges, plant operation and maintenance — all aspects of operation.

For cities in the state of Ohio, the low is $412 and the high is $983 — with the average cost $575. This shows East Liverpool very near the bottom.

Another means of comparison is the tax evaluation behind each pupil. The tax evaluation times the tax rate is the sum of local money residents provide for the students education.

East Liverpool has $9,445 tax evaluation behind each student. The low for cities is $6,103 and the high is $95,103. Here again, East Liverpool ranks near the bottom

—:—

IN COMPARING the tax rates with other cities, Youngstown, which is asking 12-mills new operating money, is now paying 21.7-mills for operating.

Struthers, now paying 23.9-mills for operating is asking for an additional 8 mills.

Parma, near Cleveland, is now paying 26.61 milis and officials say more is needed. Berea, also near Cleveland, is paying 27.1 mills. Warren in Trumbull County is paying 20.7, Girard is paying 26.6 and Niles, 23.1. Niles is asking for 4-mills additional.

The Cuyahoga and Trumbull County figures are 1967 figures and so may now be higher, but even if not, they are all higher than East Liverpool, except Warren.

The "Citizens Who Care" committee, headed by Leo Lawrence, James Lowe, and J. E. Curry, all former board of education presidents, has been working for the passage of the levy, trying to educate the people of the community as to the need for the renewals, and especially that they are renewals — they do not represent any new taxes.

One of the members of this committee, Patrolman Orin Smith Jr., "In a time that human rights are being discussed so often, I think that we certainly cannot overlook the rights of our children — present and future—to get an education. To continue the proper education for our children in East Liverpool, RENEWAL of our school levies is a must."

Curry has made a plea to the parents — "My children are out of school. Please help me educate your children by voting with me for renewal of the school levies."

—:—

ROBERT HARRIS, manager of the Social Security Office, stated, "One of the many reasons we should pass the levies Tuesday is to make the employment picture more secure for our teachers. Why should anyone sign a one - year contract committing themselves to a system that can't return the commitment to them? If we want a full teaching staff next September, we must give our commitment to our faculty now — in May."

William Thornberry, president of the East Liverpool Federated Parent-Teacher Association, said, "I don't think we can overemphasize the fact that the total operation of the schools is our responsibiliy. We provide all the funds in a sense, since foundation money is tax money. The loss of the state foundation money would mean that our money could be spent elsewhere."

"Our young people are pleading for our leadership. They know that we are responsible for the operating money, the board, and the administration."

"It seems to me that it would be paradoxical to vote any way but yes. We must show our children that we ARE responsible, beginning with allocation of tax revenue (not additional funds) and then showing concerted effort towards direction and total unity."

Ben Weber, city sanitarian, said, "The school operation affects every segment of our community. The continued operation of the schools necessitates the renewal of the 12-mills on Tuesday. Let's keep what we have."

LOWE stated, "Every boy and girl in the United States is entitled to an education. In our East Liverpool School district, you — the voters — have the chance to continue that education on Tuesday by voting yes (X) You are giving them the chance to equip their minds to that they can make a living in later years."

Supt. Paul Blair commented, "The future of our community, our state, and our nation depends on the education of our youth. Our youth can only be educated by the willingness of the voters of our community to support operating levies. Think of the children, our future citizens. Give them the education they deserve.

Harry McConville, board of education member, appealed, "To all of our citizens who care about the future of our youth and community, I would like to urge a yes vote for the renewal of the school levies. It represents no additional taxes."

Bill Proposed For Repeal Of Ferguson Act

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Senate's minority leader has asked his research staff to begin this week preparing a bill to repeal Ohio's Ferguson Act, which prohibits strikes by public employes.

Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-33, Youngstown, said he was concerned about the increasing number of public strikes and disruptions of state services in Ohio.

The omnibus bill will set precise procedures for grievance negotiation, conciliation, mediation, fact finding and arbitration and would give public employes the right to strike.

It also will include a provision to allow the state, under certain conditions, to invoke an injunction to prohibit a strike for a certain length of time during a cooling off period.

Carney, former regional representative for the United Steelworkers Union, said public employes "ought to have the same rights" as those in private industry.

The Youngstown senator indicated that although the legislature is Republican controlled, his bill might have a chance of passage if public employe work stoppages continue this spring.

The Ohio General Assembly will take up at 4 p.m. Tuesday, instead of Monday night, because of the primary and special elections Tuesday.

Mother's Day

In 1914 Congress officially recognized the second Sunday of May as " . . . The day for public expression of our love and reference for the Mothers."

For our part, we thought it proper to express our sentiments by including in this space a few proverbs from different parts of the world.

An ounce of motherhood is worth a ton of religion. (Spanish) One does not desert one's mother though she be a beggar. (Chinese) No bones are ever broken by a mother's paddle. (Russian) God could not be everywhere so he made mothers. (Yiddish) He is void of news who speaks ill of his mother. (Irish) Learn, little boy, to greet your mother with a smile. (Italian)

Wisconsin Students Join Hippies In Police Battle

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Hundreds of University of Wisconsin students erected flaming street barricades early today in sympathy with hippies whose attempts to hold a block dance were smashed by police using clubs and irritant gas.

The students poured out of dormitories and fraternity houses following two night of battle between the hippies and the police and surged into the business area, where for several hours they defied efforts to disperse them.

More than 1,000 young persons were involved before scattered disorders subsided. The throngs also included hippies and scores of their fellow student residents of an off-campus neighborhood known as the Mifflin Street hippie haven.

The weekend of disorder resulted in about 80 arrests. Two of those detained were city aldermen, Paul Soglin and Eugene Parks. Soglin, 24, accused the police of shearing off his long hair before he was freed on bond.

Soglin, a university student known as "the hippie alderman," said he was arrested when he tried to intervene between the police and hippies.

Nearly two hours after midnight, Mayor William Dyke, who toured the troubled areas in a police car, described the city of 175,000 as relatively quiet. But he said he would have to consider ordering a curfew to try to head off any further outbursts.

The trouble began Saturday when police began breaking up barricades erected by residents of a Miffline Street hippie dance several blocks from the University of Wisconsin campus. The police said the dance would block traffic.

Police, having been pelted with occasional eggs and empty soft drink cans during an hour-long standoff, threatened to use gas to disperse the group. The announcement was greeted by a storm of rocks, bricks and bottles.

Police waded in, nightsticks flailing, and began making arrests. Some officers threw bricks back at the crowd. When police moved back, and the gas blew away, hippies quickly rebuilt their barricades.

A Sunday peace was shattered when officers waded into an afternoon gathering of about 300 young residents of the Mifflin Street neighborhood. Arrests resumed, most for unlawful assembly.

Authorities again used the irritant gas which they called "pepper gas."

Sunday night, the Mifflin Street residents moved out of their gas-choked neighborhood and began picketing the Dane County jail to protest police actions.

The throng swelled to more than 1,000 when the students joined forces with the Mifflin Street residents.

As more clouds of the gas rolled down streets—some of it from canisters and some ejected from containers carried by police—hundreds of students marched down State Street to the city's business district.

At various points on State Street and side streets the students piled up barricades of steel trash containers and set fire to the contents.

Mayor Dyke told an emergency City Council session he would order police to withdraw if the students and hippies would agree to break it up, but complained:

"Almost no one can pin down the groups in terms of who you can talk to.

"It's a very unfortunate situation, a very difficult situation obviously."

Officers List 5 Crashes In City Traffic

Five mishaps marred East Liverpool traffic on the weekend, police reported. No one was injured.

A hit-skip auto was blamed for a collision Sunday at 4:24 p.m. that damaged a wooden door on a garage owned by Charles Flick of 828 W. 9th St. Witnesses said a driver attempting to turn his auto around in the street baked into the garage door, then left the scene. Officers were given a dscription of the car.

An East End youth was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a mishap that damaged his auto and another Saturday at 4:57 p.m. on Jackson St. at W. 6th St.

The woman told police she pulled away from the traffic light, but her motor stalled and her auto was hit from the rear.

A similar mishap Saturday at 9:49 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. near Minnesota Ave. damaged a 1967 auto driven by Cathy Lee Brown, 19, of Chester RD 1 and a 1965 four-door sedan operated by Clyde B. Dick, 58, of Lisbon RD 3. The young woman said she halted on Pennsylvania Ave. and her auto was hit from the rear by the Lisbon area car.

A mishap at 1 this morning on the parking lot at Buddy's Drive-In Restaurant on E. 3rd St. involved a 1966 sedan of James D. Morris, 18, of 128 W. 3rd St. and a 1968 sedan of Lois D'Alessio, 21, of 201 W. 3rd St., officers said.

The Morris auto was parked. The young women was backing from a parking spot when her auto hit the Morris car, officers said.

The autos also were damaged in a mishap on the parking lot of the Dairy Queen store on Dresden Ave. Sunday at 9:12 p.m., officers said.

It involved a 1967 two-door sedan of Robert S. White, 16, of Lakeview Estates and a 1969 tow-door sedan of Joseph S. Fuller, 26, of 325 Bentley Ave., Newell.

White told officers he attempted to park alongside Fuller's auto, but bumped the right front fender of Fuller's auto.

Trustees Given Meeting Report

A report on a meeting in New Philadelphia with Ohio Highway Department aides and a discussion of speeding marked the meeting of Liverpool Township trustees Friday night.

Lester Devore of Shadyside Ave. questioned the board relative to the meeting, which was concerned with the repairing of Shadyside Ave.

Richard Sanford, a trustee who attended the meeting with other state and county officials, said there is nothing definite as yet on the distribution of funds.

Rep. Clarence Wetzel said some action should be due within the next three weeks.

A delegation from Maplewood Ave., present to complain about speeding, was assured that the constables are cracking down on reckless and hazardous driving in the area.

The board approved a 10-cent-an-hour increase for the road foreman and a 5-cent-an-hour increase for the other two employes.

The next meeting will be May 16 at 7:30 p.m.

As more clouds of the gas rolled down streets—some of it from canisters and some ejected from containers carried by police—hundreds of students marched down State Street to the city's business district.

At various points on State Street and side streets the students piled up barricades of steel trash containers and set fire to the contents.

Mayor Dyke told an emergency City Council session he would order police to withdraw if the students and hippies would agree to break it up, but complained:

"Almost no one can pin down the groups in terms of who you can talk to.

"It's a very unfortunate situation, a very difficult situation obviously."

Officers List 5 Crashes In City Traffic

Five mishaps marred East Liverpool traffic on the weekend, police reported. No one was injured.

A hit-skip auto was blamed for a collision Sunday at 4:24 p.m. that damaged a wooden door on a garage owned by Charles Flick of 828 W. 9th St. Witnesses said a driver attempting to turn his auto around in the street baked into the garage door, then left the scene. Officers were given a dscription of the car.

An East End youth was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a mishap that damaged his auto and another Saturday at 4:57 p.m. on Jackson St. at W. 6th St.

A 1966 four-door sedan driven by Evelyn L. Evans, 44, of 1296 Sunnyside Ave. was hit from behind by a 1964 two-door sedan operated by Virgil A. Williams Jr., 18, of Lee St., officers said.

The woman told police she pulled away from the traffic light, but her motor stalled and her auto was hit from the rear.

A similar mishap Saturday at 9:49 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. near Minnesota Ave. damaged a 1967 auto driven by Cathy Lee Brown, 19, of Chester RD 1 and a 1965 four-door sedan operated by Clyde B. Dick, 58, of Lisbon RD 3. The young woman said she halted on Pennsylvania Ave. and her auto was hit from the rear by the Lisbon area car.

A mishap at 1 this morning on the parking lot at Buddy's Drive-In Restaurant on E. 3rd St. involved a 1966 sedan of James D. Morris, 18, of 128 W. 3rd St. and a 1968 sedan of Lois D'Alessio, 21, of 201 W. 3rd St., officers said.

The Morris auto was parked. The young women was backing from a parking spot when her auto hit the Morris car, officers said.

The autos also were damaged in a mishap on the parking lot of the Dairy Queen store on Dresden Ave. Sunday at 9:12 p.m., officers said.

It involved a 1967 two-door sedan of Robert S. White, 16, of Lakeview Estates and a 1969 tow-door sedan of Joseph S. Fuller, 26, of 325 Bentley Ave., Newell.

White told officers he attempted to park alongside Fuller's auto, but bumped the right front fender of Fuller's auto.

Trustees Given Meeting Report

A report on a meeting in New Philadelphia with Ohio Highway Department aides and a discussion of speeding marked the meeting of Liverpool Township trustees Friday night.

Lester Devore of Shadyside Ave. questioned the board relative to the meeting, which was concerned with the repairing of Shadyside Ave.

Richard Sanford, a trustee who attended the meeting with other state and county officials, said there is nothing definite as yet on the distribution of funds.

Rep. Clarence Wetzel said some action should be due within the next three weeks.

A delegation from Maplewood Ave., present to complain about speeding, was assured that the constables are cracking down on reckless and hazardous driving in the area.

The board approved a 10-cent-an-hour increase for the road foreman and a 5-cent-an-hour increase for the other two employes.

The next meeting will be May 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Watch Those Dumplings

DEAR FOLKS: Anyone who has a hungry teen-ager in the family will appreciate this time-saver.

You know those little Vienna sausages that come in a can? Well, try just ripping off the top, pouring out the juice and eating it right out of the can with a fork!

My teen-age daughter likes to pour dripping mustard over be with a little catsup.

Give 'em a few crackers and they've got it made. Whoopee, no dishes to wash.

HELOISE

P.S. Why is that first sausage so hard to get out of that can? That's the way I discovered this snack treat.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a tip for anyone who is slightly spray-paint happy.

When you have to paint light switch plates, put the screws through a shirt cardboard and spray away.

It won't clog the threads of the screws and you don't end up with painted fingers. And the result is screws to match the plate itself.

MRS. C. HENRY FLEMER.

DEAR FOLKS: You know those glass pie plates? Well, I just discovered that most of them will fit on top of nearly any pot or pan we cook dumplings in!

Removing the lid to test the dumplings (and if you use the same recipe ten straight times it never comes out the same) is what causes them to "fall" and get soggy.

If you use that glass pie plate as a lid you can SEE how they have risen and just what they're doing.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This morning I was sitting at my kitchen table getting ready to mend a pair of my daughter's stretch pants. The stitching had pulled out from part of the waistband and since both the material and the band were elastic. I had to stretch it while sewing it by hand.

So I opened my kitchen table where the leaves are inserted, slipped in the waistband and closed it.

There I had my own little "sewing vise" which left me with both hands free to sew.

MRS. DOROTHY ANDERSON.

Oh, Dorothy, how we thank you for this hint.

With all the stretch clothes today, more and more of us have mending that needs to be stretched while sewing. And now you have given us the answer.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep a roll of double sticky tape (sticky on both sides) around the house because I find it so very useful.

Works great on the back of stamps that have lost their glue. It also holds my First-Aid chart on the inside of my medicine cabinet door, bows on packages, and pictures in albums.

Everything Being Used In Transatlantic Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Contestants in the great transatlantic air race of 1969 are using elevators, ambulances, antique cars, jet planes, balloons. Anything to cover the distance between the observation deck of the Empire State Building and the top of London's Post Office Tower in the shortest possible time.

One of them claims a new flight record.

Lt. Paul Waterhouse piloted a Royal Navy Phantom jet across the Atlantic Sunday in 5 hours, 4 minutes and 25 seconds. When he landed in London, a Navy spokesman said it was the fastest transatlantic flight ever. His trips to and from the airport took another 26 minutes.

The race, sponsored by the London Daily Mail to mark the 50th anniversary of the first nonstop flight over the Atlantic, offers $144,000 in prizes. It has offers $144,000 in prizes.

John Alcock and Arthur Whitten Brown flew a Vickers-Vimy biplane from Newfoundland to a bog near Galway, Ireland on June 14 and 15, 1919, taking 15 hours, 57 minutes.

Some entrants have elaborate schemes for coping with traffic jams, including ambulances with red lights flashing, motorcycle escorts and helicopters. Two entrant used a speedboat to reach a helicopter pad in the middle of London's Thames River.

The race ends next week, with top prizes for the best times in each direction.

Cooper Walker pulled away from the Empire State Building in a 1919 Stutz Bearcat. Walker, a Baltimore travel agent, will finish in a 1919 Rolls Royce, and in between he'll use a horse-drawn coach, six planes and two balloons.

He said he's aiming for the "most meritorious" prize.

Among the more daring adverturers is Ben Garcia, 32, of East Brunswick, N.J., who left New York's Flushing Airport in the race's smallest entry, a Piper Colt.

"I'm a bit apprehensive," he said after arriving in Saint John, N.B. on the first leg of his trip. "I'll have a problem making the 700-mile hop from Iceland to Ireland."

His 108-horsepower plane has a range of 600 miles, but Garcia said he'd "wait for a good tail wind" in Iceland, climb high and glide to Ireland.

"I have seven pounds of peanut butter, a bottle of cognac donated by the BBC (British Broadcasting Co.) and 500 biscuits for emergencies, but I'm afraid I won't have enough gas."

Jet propulsion is employed by the squid of the ocean, which sucks in and expels water as a means of moving about.

To Fight Addiction

Use Of Drug Treatment Proposed By Sen. Kline

HARRISBURG (AP) — A new weapon to help the state break the vicious circle of drug addiction and crime was proposed today by a state legislative leader.

Senate Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, said he was introducing legislation this week to allow use of a new drug treatment which has helped cure heroin users of their addiction in other states.

The Kline proposal would amend the Drug, Device and Cosmetic Act to permit controlled use of the drug, methadone, in selected clinics around the state.

Two such clinics already are operating under special permission from state and local officials. One, in Philadelphia, has been in operation since 1966 and is treating 265 addicts. Another was started in Pittsburgh last month.

Methadone, said Kline, "is used as a therapeutic substitute for heroin. It blocks the effect of heroin and eliminates the compulsive hunger for the drug

The result is that heroin addicts can, after low-cost treatments ranging from a few weeks to sometimes more than two years, return to work and not have to steal and commit other crimes to buy drugs.

Kline said even "modest hero habits" are estimated to require about $30 worth of the drug a day, or about $11,000 a year."

To raise this amount of money through crime, he said, a person would have to steal about $44,000 in goods and property.

"The actual medical cost of a daily dose of methadone is only two cents," said Kline. "Including staff time and expenses, the cost of treating a patient for the two - year program is $1,500 annually."

This compares, he said, to the $3,700-a-year cost of keeping a person in a Pennsylvania prison.

"Addiction is a social and medical problem," said Kline. "It is here that we must rely on medical science; this is the new approach that is needed and this is what I am proposing."

Pennsylvania Assembly Will Air Taxes, Drugs

HARRISBURG (AP) — Business tax loopholes and drugs will be among topics before the General Assembly this week, as lawmakers prepare for their final work week before the May 20 primary election.

House Speaker Herbert Fineman said he planned to name this week the members of a special house investigating committee to probe business tax loopholes.

The House on Tuesday passed a resolution establishing the committee, which will have full powers to subpoena witnesses and hold public hearings.

The committee will consist of six members of the majority Democratic caucus and four members from the GOP side.

On Tuesday night a special committee investigating the enforcement and administration of the state's drug laws will hold a hearing—the first legislative hearing to be shown on the new state educational television network.

Beginning at 8:30 p.m., the telecast will be shown live by stations in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, State College and Hershey. Erie's educational station will join the net work a half-hour later, while the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre and Allentown stations will air the show on Wednesday.

One of the witnesses scheduled to appear is Col. Paul A. Rittlemann, who is in charge of narcotics agents in the Department of Health.

Meanwhile, Senate Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, said he would introduce legislation this week to amend the Drug, Device and Cosmetic Act to permit controlled use of a new drug which shows great promise in eradicating heroin addiction.

The drug, methadone, "is used as a therapeutic substitute for heroin," Kline said. "It blocks the effect of heroin and eliminates the compulsive hunger for the drug."

In the House, Republicans said over the weekend they were prepared to offer amendments to a Democratic-sponsored school subsidy bill in an effort to distribute the funds across the state.

Rep. Donald W. Fox, R-Lawrence, announced plans to seek revisions in the measure, which he contended was inequitable in that it favored Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Democrats were expected to oppose the amendments.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I, when removing paint or varnish from a chair or table, decrease wastage of my remover?

A. — Place the leg of the furniture piece inside the remover container. Brush the remover up and down, and the surplus will run back into the container. In this way, waste is lessened, and so is the mess.

Q. — How can I clean a greasy concrete floor?

A. — Scatter some trisodium phosphate thickly over the floor, then sprinkle on just enough water to dissolve the powder chemical. Let remain an hour or so, then scrub the floor with water. If some of the stain still remains after one such treatment, keep repeating until success is yours.

Q. — How can I clean black felt?

A. — A half - cup of cold tea, mixed with a teaspoonful of ammonia, usually does a good cleaning job on black felt.

To Fight Addiction

Use Of Drug Treatment Proposed By Sen. Kline

HARRISBURG (AP) — A new weapon to help the state break the vicious circle of drug addiction and crime was proposed today by a state legislative leader.

Senate Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, said he was introducing legislation this week to allow use of a new drug treatment which has helped cure heroin users of their addiction in other states.

The Kline proposal would amend the Drug, Device and Cosmetic Act to permit controlled use of the drug, methadone, in selected clinics around the state.

Two such clinics already are operating under special permission from state and local officials. One, in Philadelphia, has been in operation since 1966 and is treating 265 addicts. Another was started in Pittsburgh last month.

Methadone, said Kline, "is used as a therapeutic substitute for heroin. It blocks the effect of heroin and eliminates the compulsive hunger for the drug. The result is that heroin addicts can, after low-cost treatments ranging from a few weeks to sometimes more than two years, return to work and not have to steal and commit other crimes to buy drugs.

Kline said even "modest hero habits" are estimated to require about $30 worth of the drug a day, or about $11,000 a year."

To raise this amount of money through crime, he said, a person would have to steal about $44,000 in goods and property.

"The actual medical cost of a daily dose of methadone is only two cents," said Kline. "Including staff time and expenses, the cost of treating a patient for the two - year program is $1,500 annually."

This compares, he said, to the $3,700-a-year cost of keeping a person in a Pennsylvania prison.

"Addiction is a social and medical problem," said Kline. "It is here that we must rely on medical science; this is the new approach that is needed and this is what I am proposing."

Pennsylvania Assembly Will Air Taxes, Drugs

HARRISBURG (AP) — Business tax loopholes and drugs will be among topics before the General Assembly this week, as lawmakers prepare for their final work week before the May 20 primary election.

House Speaker Herbert Fineman said he planned to name this week the members of a special house investigating committee to probe business tax loopholes.

The House on Tuesday passed a resolution establishing the committee, which will have full powers to subpoena witnesses and hold public hearings.

The committee will consist of six members of the majority Democratic caucus and four members from the GOP side.

On Tuesday night a special committee investigating the enforcement and administration of the state's drug laws will hold a hearing—the first legislative hearing to be shown on the new state educational television network.

Beginning at 8:30 p.m., the telecast will be shown live by stations in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, State College and Hershey. Erie's educational station will join the net work a half-hour later, while the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre and Allentown stations will air the show on Wednesday.

One of the witnesses scheduled to appear is Col. Paul A. Rittlemann, who is in charge of narcotics agents in the Department of Health.

Meanwhile, Senate Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, said he would introduce legislation this week to amend the Drug, Device and Cosmetic Act to permit controlled use of a new drug which shows great promise in eradicating heroin addiction.

The drug, methadone, "is used as a therapeutic substitute for heroin," Kline said. "It blocks the effect of heroin and eliminates the compulsive hunger for the drug."

In the House, Republicans said over the weekend they were prepared to offer amendments to a Democratic-sponsored school subsidy bill in an effort to distribute the funds across the state.

Rep. Donald W. Fox, R-Lawrence, announced plans to seek revisions in the measure, which he contended was inequitable in that it favored Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Democrats were expected to oppose the amendments.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I, when removing paint or varnish from a chair or table, decrease wastage of my remover?

A. — Place the leg of the furniture piece inside the remover container. Brush the remover up and down, and the surplus will run back into the container. In this way, waste is lessened, and so is the mess.

Q. — How can I clean a greasy concrete floor?

A. — Scatter some trisodium phosphate thickly over the floor, then sprinkle on just enough water to dissolve the powder chemical. Let remain an hour or so, then scrub the floor with water. If some of the stain still remains after one such treatment, keep repeating until success is yours.

Q. — How can I clean black felt?

A. — A half - cup of cold tea, mixed with a teaspoonful of ammonia, usually does a good cleaning job on black felt.

On The TV Beat

By Cecil Smith

Can Garrison Land The Whale?

One of the most intriguing projects on tap for television is a series of annual 90-minute specials on CBS to be called, as of this writing, "Around the World With Orson Welles."

Cecil Smith

It might even come off. Given the whole world, including Outer Mongolia, Welles finally may have a stage big enough to contain his talent.

The wise money is against it. Although the Gargantuan Welles, who now tips the scales at more than 300 pounds, is a whale among the little fishes who populate our stages and screens, television has continually failed to net him on any kind of a regular basis.

-:-

A FEW YEARS AGO when he was, as always, stony broke and monumentally in debt, he turned down a $2 million offer from CBS for a series of specials.

What gives credence to the present project is that the fisherman is Greg Garrison, the man who makes the Dean Martin Show happen.

Anyone who has watched the assembling of the weekly Martin bash gets the idea that Garrison can do anything. Greg assembles the show in its entirety, standing in for Martin through all the rehearsals.

Dean shows up only on the day of taping, spends 45 minutes going over his music with the orchestra, walks through a quick dress rehearsal and does the show.

EVEN ADMITTING that Dean is a beautifully organized professional, still he trusts Garrison in every detail of the show, and it is to the great credit of the producer-director that it functions so well — or at all.

Greg is a rugged pro who has spent 21 of his 43 years making television happen in a career that dates back to TV's Neanderthal era when he was the director of the Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca "Your Show of Shows." He has the ability to keep a whole series of projects in the air at once.

While winding up the Martin show for the year, he completed the taping of the nine Golddiggers shows with Gail Martin, Paul Lynde, Lou Rawls and Stanley Myron Handelman that will be Dean's summer replacement, beginning July 17; he is assembling a special for a projected series to be called "50 Girls — Count 'em — 50," and next month he and Welles head for Moscow and, hopefully, Outer Mongolia to film more material for "Around the World."

-:-

"EVERYBODY'S got his hero," said Garrison, "and for me it's always been Welles. Whenever 'Citizen Kane' turns up on a late, late show, I watch it. It's the fountainhead of all modern directing.

"It breaks your heart to see Orson, who is one of the few really great men of this century, spinning his wheels. Three years ago I got him to do the Martin show, and he's come back every year for a guest spot.

"Last time he was in town to begin work in the new Mike Nichols film, "Catch 22"), he said: 'I'm really astonished at this medium. Whenever I get off a plane in an airport, people don't say "Who's that fat man?" but "That's Orson Welles — I saw him on the Dean Martin Show." Maybe we should do something . . .'"

-:-

"WHEN I WAS in Princeton," continued Greg, "I hitchhiked to Philadelphia to see Orson's great stage production of 'Around the World in 80 Days.' That was the germ of the idea.

"I got a good writing team, Tom and Frank Waldman, and we put together an idea for a series of Welles specials, 'Around the World . . .' Mike Dann at CBS went for it. Here we are."

Welles is directing as well as performing "Around the World." Footage has been shot in Vienna, Yugoslavia, Barcelona and Hollywood, using such diverse guests as Senta Berger and Mickey Rooney.

Greg has no illusions. He knows the grandiose Wellesian ways with money where millions slip through his plump fingers. That stage production of "Around the World in 80 Days" was the most monumental financial disaster in Broadway history.

A critic wrote: "It has everything in it but the kitchen sink," and for the second performance Welles entered carrying a kitchen sink.

BUT THE WELLES talent still can astonish you.

His latest Dean Martin appearance was a couple of weeks ago (April 17) and he chose, apologetically, to read a Shakespearean passage so familiar it has become trite — Antony's oration from "Julius Caesar."

Yet the Welles reading was so profound, so rich with meaning and fired with passion that it was as if you were hearing these words familiar to every schoolboy for the first time.

Federal Food Aid Falls Below Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — An $8.8 million federal program aimed at improving diets for nearly a quarter-million impoverished mothers and children is far behind schedule and 50 per cent below the target.

The program's intent is to supply a $7.00 package of nutrients—iron-enriched cereal, fruit juice, canned meat—each month to malnourished families.

But, after six months, the program has reached less than 100,000 of the target figure of 225,000 mothers and children.

However, the Nixon administration will continue to press the project which was initiated by the Johnson administration, along with other federal food programs, say Agriculture Department officials. The administration has asked for $15 million increase in the department's food program budget overall.

The problem centers on poor federal-local cooperation and little local awareness of what all department programs can and should do, spokesmen say. Without cooperation, little can be done, they add.

The Department hopes to cure some of the trouble with an educational campaign among labor unions, churches, business groups and universities.

Freeman said it is expected the department will make its original target for the special food packages sometime later this year. In 1970 the program is intended to reach a million mothers, infants and children up to the age of six years. The cost estimate for this level is $140 million a year.

"The enthusiasm is there," Freeman says. But it's only in places like the district (Washington, D.C.) which have some uncommitted resources available that makes it possible to get moving."

The program was limping along in Washington until mid-April when a Senate committee under Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., took to the city to probe hunger conditions.

Only 20,465 persons were receiving the special packages but the project was immediately expanded to include 45,000 after the investigation.

Crushed By Log

McARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — Wells William Knisley, 32, Bainbridge, was killed Sunday when a 600-pound log rolled off a truck he was unloading at the Vinton County Stave Co., Inc.

When Thomas Jefferson proceeded to the Capitol to take the oath of office, John Adams, retiring president, refused to accompany him.

The "Miss America" pageant has been held since 1921.

Black Militants Rapped By First Negro Justice

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The first Negro member of the U.S. Supreme Court says black militants who defy the law should be made to face the consequences.

"Anarchy is anarchy," Justice Thurgood Marshall said Sunday, "and it makes no difference who practices it, it is bad; it is punishable and it should be punished."

Marshall spoke at the centennial celebration of predominantly Negro Dillard University.

"You can't use color for an excuse for not doing what you should be doing," he declared.

"Race is not an excuse for not keeping up your house properly, nor is race an excuse for not keeping your children in school, even though they may still be segregated."

Marshall said he realized that "so far as race problems and minority rights go, the problems are not yet solved and I have no idea when they will be, but there has been some progrss."

"The seeds are here," he added. "But nothing will be settled with guns, firebombs or rocks. The country can't survive if the perpetrators go unpunished. It's that simple."

Urging Negroes to reject black militant leadership, Marshall said:

"We should stand up and say, 'Look, man, you do what you want to do and I'll do what I want to do. But don't tell me I have to do what you want me to do just because you said it."

The associate justice called for leadership through education, and said student demanding black studies and African culture should not discard other studies and cultures.

"You are not going to compete in the world until you have training exactly like everyone else, and, hopefully, better," he said. "Bcause when you're a Negro, you've got to be better."

Teachers End 5-Day Strike At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Teachers were expected to end a five-day strike and return to work today in the suburban Gateway-Union School District after accepting a school board offer of a $6,800 starting salary.

The walkout last Monday by more than 300 teachers closed 14 schools to 8,000 students in the suburbs of Monroeville and Pitcairn. The teachers were asking the school board to negotiate a contract dispute.

"All of this could have been avoided had the board been willing to negotiate from the very beginning," said Arlene Hartman, president of the Gateway Education Association. "It points up the fact that we need a public employe negotiations law in the General Assembly."

The settlement was reached Sunday night in the third round of talks between the teachers and the board. They met more than 20 hours during the weekend.

"We have negotiated and we have won a salary package and new policy provisions for the teachers in the Gateway schools," Miss Hartman said.

She said the board had agreed to ask Allegheny County Court to withdraw an injunction granted Friday that ordered the teachers back to work.

The new salary package provides for a salary range of $6,800 to $10,400 for teachers with a bachelor's degree, and salaries from $7,400 to $11,600 for teachers with masters degrees, a GEA spokesman said.

Miss Hartman said the teachers would make up the five days lost during the strike.

She explained that the salary package and fringe benefits is in excess of $600,000. She said it is $190,000 more than the package offered before the walkout.

"But, the great moral victory was the fact that the board did negotiate," Miss Hartman said.

A school board spokesman said there would be no reprisals against the teachers.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The proposed constitutional amendment setting up a commission for recommending judges in Pennsylvania has come under fire from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

A spokesman for the state executive committee said Sunday the NAACP supports "non-partisan and non-political designation of judges for the courts," but doesn't believe the amendment will achieve this.

The proposal, on the May 20 primary ballot, calls for recommendation of judges by a commission of seven persons—four of them appointed by the governor.

"Since the governor is the titular head of the political party in power, the appointment of a majority of the commission by him negates the purported purpose of a non-partisan and non-political commission," the spokesman said.

The group urged instead the establishment of a larger commission that would include representatives of all groups in the state, including low-income communities and minority groups.

Can Garrison Land The Whale?

One of the most intriguing projects on tap for television is a series of annual 90-minute specials on CBS to be called, as of this writing, "Around the World With Orson Welles."

Cecil Smith

It might even come off. Given the whole world, including Outer Mongolia, Welles finally may have a stage big enough to contain his talent.

The wise money is against it. Although the Gargantuan Welles, who now tips the scales at more than 300 pounds, is a whale among the little fishes who populate our stages and screens, television has continually failed to net him on any kind of a regular basis.

-:-

A FEW YEARS AGO when he was, as always, stony broke and monumentally in debt, he turned down a $2 million offer from CBS for a series of specials.

What gives credence to the present project is that the fisherman is Greg Garrison, the man who makes the Dean Martin Show happen.

Anyone who has watched the assembling of the weekly Martin bash gets the idea that Garrison can do anything. Greg assembles the show in its entirety, standing in for Martin through all the rehearsals.

Dean shows up only on the day of taping, spends 45 minutes going over his music with the orchestra, walks through a quick dress rehearsal and does the show.

EVEN ADMITTING that Dean is a beautifully organized professional, still he trusts Garrison in every detail of the show, and it is to the great credit of the producer-director that it functions so well — or at all.

Greg is a rugged pro who has spent 21 of his 43 years making television happen in a career that dates back to TV's Neanderthal era when he was the director of the Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca "Your Show of Shows." He has the ability to keep a whole series of projects in the air at once.

While winding up the Martin show for the year, he completed the taping of the nine Golddiggers shows with Gail Martin, Paul Lynde, Lou Rawls and Stanley Myron Handelman that will be Dean's summer replacement, beginning July 17; he is assembling a special for a projected series to be called "50 Girls — Count 'em — 50," and next month he and Welles head for Moscow and, hopefully, Outer Mongolia to film more material for "Around the World."

-:-

"EVERYBODY'S got his hero," said Garrison, "and for me it's always been Welles. Whenever 'Citizen Kane' turns up on a late, late show, I watch it. It's the fountainhead of all modern directing.

"It breaks your heart to see Orson, who is one of the few really great men of this century, spinning his wheels. Three years ago I got him to do the Martin show, and he's come back every year for a guest spot.

"Last time he was in town to begin work in the new Mike Nichols film, "Catch 22"), he said: 'I'm really astonished at this medium. Whenever I get off a plane in an airport, people don't say "Who's that fat man?" but "That's Orson Welles — I saw him on the Dean Martin Show." Maybe we should do something . . .'"

-:-

"WHEN I WAS in Princeton," continued Greg, "I hitchhiked to Philadelphia to see Orson's great stage production of 'Around the World in 80 Days.' That was the germ of the idea.

"I got a good writing team, Tom and Frank Waldman, and we put together an idea for a series of Welles specials, 'Around the World . . .' Mike Dann at CBS went for it. Here we are."

Welles is directing as well as performing "Around the World." Footage has been shot in Vienna, Yugoslavia, Barcelona and Hollywood, using such diverse guests as Senta Berger and Mickey Rooney.

Greg has no illusions. He knows the grandiose Wellesian ways with money where millions slip through his plump fingers. That stage production of "Around the World in 80 Days" was the most monumental financial disaster in Broadway history.

A critic wrote: "It has everything in it but the kitchen sink," and for the second performance Welles entered carrying a kitchen sink.

BUT THE WELLES talent still can astonish you.

His latest Dean Martin appearance was a couple of weeks ago (April 17) and he chose, apologetically, to read a Shakespearean passage so familiar it has become trite — Antony's oration from "Julius Caesar."

Yet the Welles reading was so profound, so rich with meaning and fired with passion that it was as if you were hearing these words familiar to every schoolboy for the first time.

Federal Food Aid Falls Below Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — An $8.8 million federal program aimed at improving diets for nearly a quarter-million impoverished mothers and children is far behind schedule and 50 per cent below the target.

The program's intent is to supply a $7.00 package of nutrients—iron-enriched cereal, fruit juice, canned meat—each month to malnourished families.

But, after six months, the program has reached less than 100,000 of the target figure of 225,000 mothers and children.

However, the Nixon administration will continue to press the project which was initiated by the Johnson administration, along with other federal food programs, say Agriculture Department officials. The administration has asked for $15 million increase in the department's food program budget overall.

The problem centers on poor federal-local cooperation and little local awareness of what all department programs can and should do, spokesmen say. Without cooperation, little can be done, they add.

The Department hopes to cure some of the trouble with an educational campaign among labor unions, churches, business groups and universities.

Freeman said it is expected the department will make its original target for the special food packages sometime later this year. In 1970 the program is intended to reach a million mothers, infants and children up to the age of six years. The cost estimate for this level is $140 million a year.

"The enthusiasm is there," Freeman says. But it's only in places like the district (Washington, D.C.) which have some uncommitted resources available that makes it possible to get moving."

The program was limping along in Washington until mid-April when a Senate committee under Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., took to the city to probe hunger conditions.

Only 20,465 persons were receiving the special packages but the project was immediately expanded to include 45,000 after the investigation.

Crushed By Log

McARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — Wells William Knisley, 32, Bainbridge, was killed Sunday when a 600-pound log rolled off a truck he was unloading at the Vinton County Stave Co., Inc.

When Thomas Jefferson proceeded to the Capitol to take the oath of office, John Adams, retiring president, refused to accompany him.

The "Miss America" pageant has been held since 1921.

Black Militants Rapped By First Negro Justice

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The first Negro member of the U.S. Supreme Court says black militants who defy the law should be made to face the consequences.

"Anarchy is anarchy," Justice Thurgood Marshall said Sunday, "and it makes no difference who practices it, it is bad; it is punishable and it should be punished."

Marshall spoke at the centennial celebration of predominantly Negro Dillard University.

"You can't use color for an excuse for not doing what you should be doing," he declared.

"Race is not an excuse for not keeping up your house properly, nor is race an excuse for not keeping your children in school, even though they may still be segregated."

Marshall said he realized that "so far as race problems and minority rights go, the problems are not yet solved and I have no idea when they will be, but there has been some progrss."

"The seeds are here," he added. "But nothing will be settled with guns, firebombs or rocks. The country can't survive if the perpetrators go unpunished. It's that simple."

Urging Negroes to reject black militant leadership, Marshall said:

"We should stand up and say, 'Look, man, you do what you want to do and I'll do what I want to do. But don't tell me I have to do what you want me to do just because you said it."

The associate justice called for leadership through education, and said student demanding black studies and African culture should not discard other studies and cultures.

"You are not going to compete in the world until you have training exactly like everyone else, and, hopefully, better," he said. "Because when you're a Negro, you've got to be better."

Teachers End 5-Day Strike At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Teachers were expected to end a five-day strike and return to work today in the suburban Gateway-Union School District after accepting a school board offer of a $6,800 starting salary.

The walkout last Monday by more than 300 teachers closed 14 schools to 8,000 students in the suburbs of Monroeville and Pitcairn. The teachers were asking the school board to negotiate a contract dispute.

"All of this could have been avoided had the board been willing to negotiate from the very beginning," said Arlene Hartman, president of the Gateway Education Association. "It points up the fact that we need a public employe negotiations law in the General Assembly."

The settlement was reached Sunday night in the third round of talks between the teachers and the board. They met more than 20 hours during the weekend.

"We have negotiated and we have won a salary package and new policy provisions for the teachers in the Gateway schools," Miss Hartman said.

She said the board had agreed to ask Allegheny County Court to withdraw an injunction granted Friday that ordered the teachers back to work.

The new salary package provides for a salary range of $6,800 to $10,400 for teachers with a bachelor's degree, and salaries from $7,400 to $11,600 for teachers with masters degrees, a GEA spokesman said.

Miss Hartman said the teachers would make up the five days lost during the strike.

She explained that the salary package and fringe benefits is in excess of $600,000. She said it is $190,000 more than the package offered before the walkout.

"But, the great moral victory was the fact that the board did negotiate," Miss Hartman said.

A school board spokesman said there would be no reprisals against the teachers.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The proposed constitutional amendment setting up a commission for recommending judges in Pennsylvania has come under fire from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

A spokesman for the state executive committee said Sunday the NAACP supports "non-partisan and non-political designation of judges for the courts," but doesn't believe the amendment will achieve this.

The proposal, on the May 20 primary ballot, calls for recommendation of judges by a commission of seven persons—four of them appointed by the governor.

"Since the governor is the titular head of the political party in power, the appointment of a majority of the commission by him negates the purported purpose of a non-partisan and non-political commission," the spokesman said.

The group urged instead the establishment of a larger commission that would include representatives of all groups in the state, including low-income communities and minority groups.

Junior Editors Quiz on WRENS

QUESTION: How does a house wren find his same little house each spring?

* * *

ANSWER: The house wren is one of those birds which fly south in the winter to the warmer climate of the Gulf States, Texas or Mexico. How does a tiny thing like a wren make such a trip twice a year? Think of the air as a fine, broad highway without any obstructions, and remember that birds have extremely sharp sight and so can recognize landmarks far away. Furthermore, many migrating birds fly along such routes as the Atlantic coast or the Mississippi River, where natural features can guide them. As to finding the bird house or cavity they nest in, the male wren, like many other birds, takes a special territory of several acres for his private hunting ground. His vigorous song is to warn other rival wrens to stay away. He and Mrs. W. and the babies need a great deal of food, so the adult wrens work hard catching insects in every part of their territory. Naturally they get to know every nook and cranny of it, and this will, of course, include the bird house or other nesting site which is the Home Sweet Home of every wren family.

(Cindy Hipnor of Shelby, Iowa, wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

ANN LANDERS

Hates The 'Horsey Set'

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I've been writing this letter in my head for seven years. Finally I decided to put it down on paper. My problem is neighbors. Before I go further I'd like to make it clear that they are horses, not people.

We live in a town in Pennsylvania — population 30,000 and going backwards. The horses belong to a two-bit politician. They are fenced in a very small area, smell terrible, draw flies and don't do anything for the landscape.

The horses breed now and then and all this goes on two blocks from the post office, right in the heart of town. During breeding season the movie houses don't do any business. Everybody comes downtown to watch.

We've complained to the board of health, the Humane Society, the mayor and the police, but nobody does anything because the mayor runs everything including the City Council. What do you suggest? — PENNSYLVANIA PROBLEM.

-:-

Dear Penn: Organize some political opposition and turn the rascals out to pasture. With them will go the horses.

Talks It Up

Dear Ann: Three years ago I went to work as a legal secretary. The wife of one of the lawyers started to call me on the phone, "just to chat." I was flattered and pleased — until the calls began to come every day and last for nearly an hour.

I became upset when Mrs. X started to call me at home, asking all sorts of questions about the office. Soon I caught on to what should have been obvious earlier. Mrs. X was a kitchen drinker.

One week she called me every single night and cried for a solid hour about her husband's abusive treatment. Then she got to talking about her "vicious" neighbors and their plot to make her move.

When she told me they had her house bugged, I knew she was not only drunk but crazy. After several months of these interminable calls, I felt myself going to pieces. I had to quit my job and leave town.

Eight months have passed but that loony woman still calls every week. She's always bombed and doesn't care what time it is. I've lost many a night's sleep and am sick to death of her. What's the answer? — SACRAMENTO.

Dear Sac: The answer is an unlisted telephone number. The fact that you didn't think of this yourself raises some questions about your need to suffer. Have you seen a doctor? If not, I strongly recommend it.

Welcome Guests

DEAR ANN: The girls my fiancee works with (25 of them) are giving a bridal shower for her. The party will be at the home of her maid of honor.

Bev wants me to come in about 10:30, when they start to serve the coffee and cake. She says all I have to do is say "hello." Ann, I'd rather walk into the lion cage at Lincoln Park Zoo.

I've asked around the shop and not a single guy here ever has had to do anything like this. Please give me some advice fast. — SQUIRMING.

Dear S: Your girl wants to show you off, Lovey — so be a good sport and make her happy. It'll only take a few minutes and the agony will be over before you know it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Another Discussion Held On Dark Rooms

Don Eckert presented another demonstration on dark room techniques when the Tri - State Camera Club met Friday night at the gas company office in Glemoor.

Paul Ward presided.

Plans were completed for a trip to Fairport Harbor, near Cleveland, May 18. Members will leave from the Eckert Camera Mart at 8:30 a. m.

A discussion was held on photos taken at McConnell's Mill, near Zelienople.

The next meeting will be June 6.

Of the 36 men who have served as president of the U. S., nine did not attend college. They are Washington, Jackson, Van Buren, Taylor, Fillmore, Lincoln, A. Johnson, Cleveland and Truman.

Fans of Gilbert and Sullivan are known as Savoyards, from the fact that most of the operas were first produced at the Savoy Theater, London.

The DOCTOR Says

DrugWithdrawal Causes Side Effects

Q—What are the effects of cortisone pills? Why must one discontinue them gradually? What are their side effects?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — All drugs of the cortisone group reduce the pain and swelling due to inflammation. When taken for a prolonged period they may cause moonface, hair on the face, acne, weakening of the bones, especially of the spine, and peptic ulcer. Sudden withdrawal of these drugs is likely to cause headache, loss of appetite and blurring of vision.

Q — Are prednisone and prednisolone the same as cortisone?

A — Prednisone is a synthetic cortisone and prednisolone is a synthetic hydrocortisone. They all have a similar action.

Q—Although you said in a recent column that cancer of the uterus is rare in women who are under 30, my doctor says he has seen cervical cancer in women who are under 20. Please comment.

A — Recent studies have shown that uterine cancer, once thought to be rare in young women, occurs in about 125 of every 100,000 women who are between 15 and 30. It appears that being over 30 is not as important a cause as early sexual activity and early childbearing. Every premarital examination should include a Pap smear.

Q — My daughter lives in South America. She wrote that she has amebiasis. What are the symptoms? Is it serious? Can it be cured?

A — Most amebic infections start with vague abdominal cramps and loose stools. As the disease progresses there may be blood and mucus in the stools and the victim loses weight. In untreated cases, the chief danger is liver abscess. Fortunately, this complication is now rare because specific drugs that will cure the disease are available in tropical countries where the disease is common.

Q — How can we find a good family doctor — one who will make a thorough examination and give us a checkup when we're not sick?

A — Since many general practitioners are overworked and must often treat you on the run, finding the type you are looking for may be difficult. Perhaps your best bet would be to have your local medical society give you the names of two or three internists who are knownt o provide this kind of service.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Company Buys 'Transfer' Homes

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

When a man is transferred to a new area by his firm, the biggest worry may be his house. How long will it take to unload that white elephant or that shack in the middle of nowhere that one calls home sweet home?

Some corporations have simplified the problem. They arrange for the employe's house to be bought right away so that he can buy another at home or abroad.

THE IDEA was the brainchild of Donald McPherson, whose company, Homequity, represents some 30 corporations in the United States and Canada.

"We buy homes by averaging two independent appraisals," McPherson explains. "The buyer doesn't have to accept the offer. He can sell the house himself, if he prefers. But, if he has, say a $25,000 house with a $15,000 mortgage and wants to sell, he can have a $10,000 check right away."

The corporations pay McPherson a percentage on the value of the house, the percentage varying with the location of the house. There is more risk involved in taking over the house of a pipeline worker in a limited market on the Midwestern plains than there is in acquiring the $80,000 house of an automobile executive in the posh area of Dearborn or Bloomfield Hills.

Corporations guarantee against loss, and profits, if any, are shared, but there are headaches.

"Occasionally, we may have to hold a real dog worth $30,000 for two years," McPherson says.

During that time they must assume maintenance and other responsibilities of home ownership, plowing the snow-covered driveway, mowing the lawn, pruning trees. Their direct expenses include decorating, taxes and repairs but there are indirect expenses that cannot be pinned down to a specific house.

Fortunately, most houses are moved within three to four months.

Some corporations involve him in fewer than 15 houses a year, others may need to unload 900 or more houses.

BEFORE launching Homequity, McPherson organized Homerica, a company that works solely for buyers, locating homes for people going into areas in which they are unfamiliar.

The service and research is free to the potential buyers. If they buy, transactions are made with real estate brokers who work on a commission basis with Homerica. Forty - eight of the 50 real estate brokers with whom they work have been with them the 13 years they have been in business, he says.

The house - buying venture stemmed from that enterprise. A large corporation relocated its offices and bought 36 houses from its employes.

They asked McPherson to take them off their hands. He weighed the idea, but the fee would have been too large, and the idea was dropped. Seven years ago, he became enthusiastic about it again, offering to manage and sell houses for corporations. This wasn't the answer either, because under that plan the employe would still own the house, and methods of handling might become a problem.

Five years ago, he hit on the idea of buying the houses outright so corporations could forget about them completely. Millions had to be borrowed to get the idea underway, and the first corporation supported his loan by guaranteeing him against loss. His actual equity in houses is close to a quarter of a billion dollars.

POOL DECK COOL, GLARE-FREE. Adding swim pool with big patio-play areas is top investment in keeping teens busy, happy at home. Deck of pressure-treated Douglas fir 2-by-4s on edge provides glare-free, non-slip surface that stays cool. Firepit is enjoyed for evening gatherings.

Where Haste Makes Waste

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

A coat of paint is like a coat of magic. It can transform the outside of a house from shoddiness to sparkling newness in a single day.

Because this transformation is accomplished so quickly, the home owner can hardly wait to get started once he makes up his mind to tackle the job himself.

His impatience seems to have little effect on the initial result. Everything looks fine. He is happy with what he has accomplished.

It isn't until a few months later that the harvest of haste takes place. Peeling, blistering, flaking and other results of lack of preparation begin to make their appearance. In one year, sometimes less, there is little indication that the house received any attenion a all.

This doesn't occur on surfaces which were thoroughly sound before the painting began. But it is a rare house indeed which doesn't require some surface preparation.

Loose dirt and dust should be brushed away even when the previous coat of paint is clinging securely to the surface.

A common condition requiring pre-painting work is cracked or blistered paint, which must be scraped or wire-brushed.

Since this usually is caused by moisture getting beneath the paint and then forcing its way to the top, check to determine where the dampness originated. And be sure to follow the directions on the label of the paint you buy, since some types require that a primer be used after all loose paint has been taken off.

Check around butt joints, doors and windows, utility inlets and exhaust pipes to be certain there are no gaps.

The smallest opening can permit rainwater to enter. Remove all loose caulking compound and replace it with new. It's a good time, too, to replace any missing or loose putty around window panes.

Steel wool or wire-brush away all rust. Replace loose nails or, at the least, countersink them and fill the holes with putty.

On masonry surfaces, fill all cracks wih caulking compound or patching cement. Masonry that is powdery should be given a coat of surface conditioner.

Yes, all this may take more time than the actual painting. But it's worth it to prevent a quick return of the seedy appearance that may have necessitated the paint job in the first place.

Here Are Some Ideas On A 'Shady' Matter

The sounds of a slapping, banging window shade gone berserk are enough to scare the daylights out of anyone.

A shade that won't go up or down the way it should is a thorough nuisance.

Window shade rollers are simple enough to put right again if you understand how they operate.

The wooden roller has a spring inside of it (it's hollow). The roller has a pin on each end, a flat one and round one. The flat one rotates, and the spring is attached to it.

—:—

WHEN you pull the shade down the action winds the spring. With the shade down, ratchet pawls or catches at that end of the roller drop into place and lock the roller. This keeps the spring from unwinding of its own accord.

When the shade will not wind up the way it should it indicates a lack of tension on the spring. To wind it tighter than it is, pull the shade down about two - thirds of the way. Remove the roller from the window and wind the shade by hand. Hold it firmly and replace it in the brackets, then pull it down again.

If the shade snaps up out of control when you try to raise it, the spring is too tightly wound. Reverse the process outlined above. Raise the shade all the way. Then remove it from the window and unroll it by hand, about halfway down. Then put the roller back and the shade should go up easily.

If you pull the shade down and it snaps right up again, the spring is not being locked in position. The pawls are supposed to stop and hold the rotating pin. If they are sticking they will not control the ratchet mechanism.

REMOVE the metal cap from the end with the flat pin. Then you can see the pawls. It may be only dirt that is making them stick. Clean them out and lubricate lightly so they will work freely.

Other problems are more easily solved.

If the entire shade falls out of the brackets, they are too far apart. Figure a way to get the brackets closer together.

If they are on the outside of the window frame, move them to the inside. If they are there already, shim them with layers of cardboard. Sometimes the roller can be lengthened in effect by pulling at the fixed pin with a pair of pliers. The pin amounts to little more than a nail.

If the brackets are too close together the roller will stick. If they cannot be moved, try flattening them slightly with the tap of a hammer. Or try tapping that fixed pin, driving it a little farther into the roller.

Steel Reports Output Levels

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Steel magazine said today that most domestic producers may find that April was their best shipping month in 1969.

Steel said an anticipated drop-off had begun in automotive industry orders, although it was not severe, and demand was expected to level off seasonally.

In some instance, mostly in specialty steels, the magazine said, May tonnage might exceed April levels. It said some major consumers had not yet placed June delivery orders and structural fabricators and service centers were reported to be buying more actively.

"Steelmakers anticipate first half year 1969 shipments of about 47 million tons, only 10 per cent behind the 52.6 million shipped in the like period last year," the metalworking management weekly reported.

The magazine estimated last week's raw steel production at 2,817,000 net tons, unchanged from the previous week. Steel said production fluctuated narrowly between 2,800,000 net tons and 2,828,000 net tons during April and was expected to continue around that level.

Domestic raw steel output is only 3 per cent below last year's level even though 1968 production was boosted by strike hedge buying, Steel noted.

Steel's price composite on the No. 1 grade of steelmaking scrap rose 33 cents a gross ton to $27.

Tips Given On Faucets

There's one sort of repair every home owner should master, a job that comes up periodically and which is easy enough for anyone to do but expensive to have done professionally.

The periodic repair referred to is the fixing of a leaky faucet. Call the plumber for really difficult jobs. This one you can handle yourself.

—:—

REPLACE washers just as soon as it takes an unusual amount of pressure to close a faucet without leaving it dripping.

Washers are generally made of hard rubber, neoprene or some other composition material with rubber being the most common.

Purchase a variety of washers unless you know what sizes you need. Most hardware and variety stores carry a variety pack which includes the most common sizes plus a couple of extra brass screws. Once you begin to learn the size each faucet requires make a note of it and buy only those sizes.

Before you take the faucet apart, turn off the water supply. In most cases there will be a shutoff valve on the water line directly behind or below the faucet to be repaired.

If there is none, you will have to turn off the main house valve. In this case drain the water from the pipes by opening several faucets.

Most faucets of the type you will repair are compression faucets. Even though they vary in appearance they work pretty much the same.

A SIMPLE and typical one can be taken apart by first loosening the cap nut with an adjustable wrench. Then twist out the long stem or spindle. This has the washer on the end which is held in place with a brass screw. Remove the screw and pry out the worn washer.

The washer is installed with the beveled side out (if that is the kind that is required) and then the screw should be installed tightly so that the washer won't get loose and fall into the water line.

Your faucet may look more complicated. Generally this is little more than decoration. There may be an ornamental chrome cap nut, for example. Protect the chrome with adhesive tape before using a wrench.

Two faucets with a common spout is another style you will run into. Get the chrome housing out of the way and you will find a large nut underneath which holds the spindle in position and also holds the packing in.

If the faucet continues to drip after a new washer has been installed, it probably means that the brass seat against which the washer closes is worn.

An inexpensive tool is sold at hardware stores for smoothing the seat. It is called a valve seat grinder or dresser. Twist this against the seat, gently though, and it will smooth the seat. Then reassemble the faucet.

'Splash Mat' Easily Made

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Home owners who do a lot of gardening, pot plants, cut flowers and use water or a host to a great extent are aware of the fact that before long the ground below the hose soon becomes soggy and most unpleasant to work near.

There never seems to be a clean hard surface at hand upon which to place a bucket or a piece of lawn furniture to dry after washing.

A splash mat is a great convenience and so easily made that the outdoor worker usually starts with a small one and ends up with quite an area of pavement.

Virtually all outside hose connections come through the foundation wall of the house and from beneath the porch.

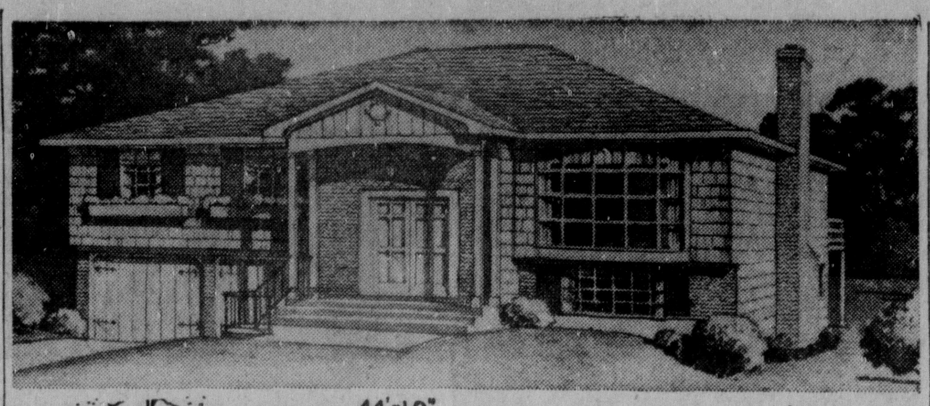
There are two ways of making the splash mat. The first is to cut out the required area, making the sides cut sharp and neat through the turf and about three or four inches deep. A mixure of one part of Portland cement, two parts of sand and three parts of crushed stone or gravel makes the best concrete mix An absolute minimum of water should be used in mixing it. The batch is shoveled into the depression and troweled off smooth.

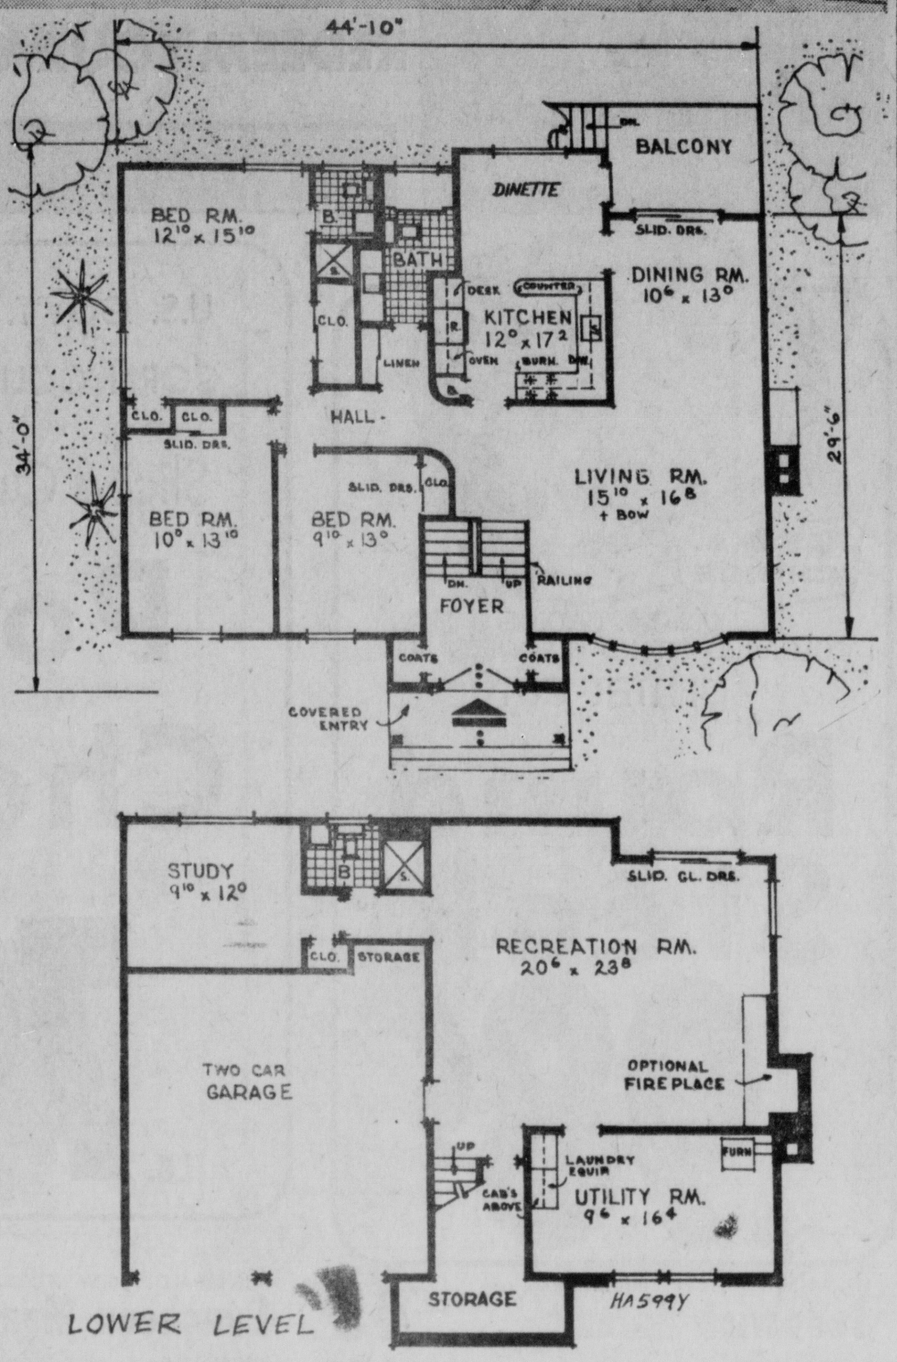
No form is required, since the neat edges cut into the ground furnish the form. The concrete should be kept covered and dampened for four days before it is walkd on.

The second type of splash mat, and probably easier to make than the first one, is provided by simply cutting out the turf the required size and laying common bricks in the depression. Secondhand bricks are excellent for this purpose.

The depression should be two inches deep, so that when a brick is laid flat it will be even with the lawn. The best job of this kind is done when the bottom of the cut - out is raked smooth and tamped down hard before the brick is set in place.

No mortar is used between the bricks, since it is unnecessary, and no bed of sand or stone is required beneath the brick surface. Dust and earth soon wash between the bricks and they set up firm.





IMPRESSIVE, DOUBLE-DOOR, columned entrance leads to a foyer with twin coat closets. The kitchen has cabinets on all four walls and an abundance of counter top area including a planning desk. The kitchen is convenient for serving the dining room, dinette and outdoor dining balcony. Three bedrooms and two full baths are on the main floor. The recess at the rear wall of the column-free recreation rooms is a natural for a bar. Nearby plumbing allows for easy installation of a bar-sink. The study could served as a fourth bedroom or guest room. Plan HA599Y was designed by Herman York, 90-04 161 St., Jamaica, 11432. It has 1,496 square feet on the upper level and 767 square feet on the lower level.

Proper Steps Offered For Separating Rooms

AP Newsfeatures

Q. — We have a very old house. Between the living room and the dining room, the only division is two large and decorative support posts, each about 12 inches in from the sides. This leaves the two rooms wide open to each other.

While we realize that this kind of open planning is popular these days, we want the rooms completely separated, as each room is quite large by itself.

The posts are 10 inches wide. Will we have to put up two separate walls, one for the living room and one for the dining room? Or should we use one of those woods that come with two good sides?

A. — There are a number of things you can do. Among them is your own suggested solution of a single wall, but this will leave the two posts and studding protruding into one of the rooms. A much better idea would be to utilize the 10 inches of valuable space provided by the width of the posts. On one wall, this space would be taken up with built - in bookshelves.

On the other wall — the dining room side — the built - ins could be used for decorative dishes or pottery or something similar. Are you asolutely certain you want to wall off the entire area? You may wish later on that you had left a passageway. This would still be possible with the built - in plan described, using either an opening or a doorway between the two rooms.

Q. — A few years ago I bought some aromatic red cedar to make a mothproof closet, but we moved from the house before I got a chance to do it. I'd now like to use the cedar for making a cabinet. Can I use a shellac finish on the cedar?

—:—

A. — Yes. But remember that this type of cedar should not be finished if the aroma is intended to have any effect. If clothes will be kept in the cabinet, you could finish the outside, but leave the interior as is. In fact, sanding the interior will help to reactivate the cedar aroma.

Shellac should be applied in two or three thin coats rather than a single thick one. Dilute the first coat with an equal amount of denatured alcohol. Let it dry for several hours, then sand lightly. Apply a second coat of the same mixture, let dry and sand.

Stanton Wins Own Invitational Track, 10 Records Set

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The performance of East Liverpool's Jim Musuraca on Friday was an example of real dedication.

Musuraca traveled some 150 miles, about 100 miles farther than any other Potter athlete had to travel, to help his school in two sports. And he was the key figure in two winning efforts. Musuraca started his athletic day by going to Salem for the shotput event in the county track meet, which opened the meet at 1:30. Then he drove to Steubenville for a 4 p.m. contest to pitch the Potters to the section baseball title with a three-hit, 9-1 win over Wintersville. Then it was back to Salem to run a leg on the winning 880 relay team, which ran about 8:10.

There are very few athletes versatile enough to run both the sprints and throw the shot, much less branch out from track to baseball. But for Musuraca, that's only the beginning. Football is undoubtedly his best sport, and he will continue his pursuit of that at Notre Dame this fall on a football scholarship. In the winter, in his spare time, he was one of the leading wrestlers on the Potter team, until sidelined by a shoulder injury this year.

THERE WERE other area athletes who performed very well at the county track meet. Steve Williams of East Liverpool, bothered by a pulled muscle, picked up a second and a third in the sprints as well as anchoring the winning 880 relay. Jim Bowersock of Beaver Local, who wasn't even expected to run due to a muscle pull, won the 440 and almost gave Beaver Local a win in the mile relay over record-setting Salem.

The mile relay, the last race on the program, was the most exciting race of the evening. Salem, the favorite, had a 10-yard lead going into the final lap. Ralph Carter, running anchor for East Liverpool, kept making up ground on Salem's Jerry Filler, so that coming into the stretch he was half a stride back. But Carter "hung", as they say in horse racing, and couldn't quite catch Filler. Meanwhile, Bowersock, who had even more ground to make up, came on strong on the outside and was just edged by Carter for a second at the wire.

WELLSVILLE'S moment of triumph came when Ken Kornbau broke the two-mile mark. Kornbau led from the second lap on, but was pushed all the way by Mike Greaves of East Palestine, who was only a stride back going into the final lap, when Kornbau put on an outstanding finishing kick. There was some doubt, due to a timing mix-up, that the record would be allowed, but it finally was.

Fred Cope, Salem athletic director who managed the meet, head referee Sim Earich and all the other officials did an excellent job, with the events going off on schedule, or even before, and the milling around of contestants, noticeable at many meets, reduced to a minimum.

Kornbau Sets Two-Mile Mark

Stanton won its own invatational track meet Saturday, as 10 meet records were set and one tied in perfect weather.

The Red Raiders, unbeaten in 24 straight dual meets, easily outdistanced Jefferson Union, their chief Indian League rival, 68½-43. Wellsville and Beaver Local tied for third with 32, Crestview had 28½, Greenford 13, Brilliant 10, Carrolton and Springfield 9, United Local 7½ and Southern Local 3½.

Ray Adams of JU was the only double winner, taking both hurdle events. He lowered his own mark in the lows from :16.3 to :15.6.

Ken Kornbau of Wellsville lowered his own mark in the two-mile from 10:25.4 to 10:17.9. John Minor of Stanton, th other defending champion, was hospitalized with a kidney ailment and Pete McGeehan of Jefferson Union set an 880 record in 2:04.4. Minor did 2:06.2 last year.

Dave Olesky of the home team broke the 100-yard dash mark of :10.5 by Bart Eagenhardt of Brilliant with a :10.3 clocking. Joe Remish of Crestview did :23.0 in the 220, eclipsing the :23.3 posted by Todd Weekly of Wellsville in 1967. Mike Patterson of Stanton broke another Wellsville record, doing a :53.0 440, better than Jack Young's :53.3 in 1967.

All three relay records fell or were tied. Stanton did a fantastic :56.9 in the shuttle hurdle relay, lowering the :58.8 standard set by JU last year. The Red Raiders took the 880 in 1:4.8 as Wellsville was disqualifid, bettering the 1:35.6 set by Beaver Local last year. And the mile relay of 3:36.5 by JU tied Stanton's mark.

John Weeda of Wellsville set a new shot record of 45-8, almost a foot better than the 44-8½ posted by John Banks of Hopedale last year. Chip McConville of Crestview set a long jump record with a 20-7¾ jump, barely better than the 20-6 posted by Conrad Banks of Hopedale last year. Bob Holland of Stanton did an 11-6 pole vault, better than the 11-1 record set by Joe Wickham of Stanton in 1967.

Other winners were Danny Smith of Stanton in the high jump, Phil Harvin of Brilliant in the discus and Glen Lewis of Carrollton in the mile.

Face's Relief Job Beats Bucs For Expos

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Cloninger came back. Roy Face came back. Even Rich Allen came back.

But even though Allen was $1,000 poorer when he came back to the Philadelphia line-up, he wasn't minus any of his hitting prowess.

The controversial slugger, who was fined $1,000 for missing the previous two games without permission, drove in two runs as the Phillies whipped sagging St. Louis 5-2 Sunday.

Cloninger, meanwhile, bounced back in Cincinnati's second-game, 12-0 decision over San Diego, pitching a masterful two-hitter just about 24 hours after he failed to get a Padre out in the first inning. The Reds also won he opener 3-2.

Face, 41-year-old veteran who was out of work last month until Montreal took a chance on him, relieved for the fourth time in the past week and gained his second victory against no defeats in the Expos' 6-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

In other National League games, Atlanta downed Los Angeles 4-1, Houston tripped San Francisco 3-1 and the New York Mets took the Chicago Cubs twice by 3-2 scores.

In the American League, Baltimore swept New York 5-3 and 14-2. Washington edged Cleveland 4-3, Minnesota nipped Chicago 4-3, Kansas City shellacked California 15-1, Boston trimmed Detroit 4-2 in 11 innings and Oakland split with Seattle, winning 11-7 after a 6-4 loss.

Allen's latest troubles started Friday when he missed two planes from Philadelphia to St. Louis and thus the Phillies' night game with the Cardinals. He didn't make it in time for Saturday's game either, showing up an hour after it started.

He was there and in the line-up for Sunday's contest, though, and responded by driving in runs with a double in the third inning and a sacrifice fly in the sixth as the Phillies completed a sweep of the three-game series.

"We had a great weekend, we had bautiful weather, we won three games and Richie Allen came back and had a great day," beamed Phils Manager Bob Skinner, carefully skirting any mention of the AWOL incident.

Cloninger started for Cincinnati against San Diego Saturday but was battered for five runs in the first inning.

However, Manager Dave Bristol came back with the right-hander in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader, and Cloninger responded by holding the Padres hitless after the second inning.

The pitcher also contributed a homer and a single to the Reds' 11-hit attack as he picked up his first victory against four losses.

The Reds won the opener behind run-scoring hits by Tommy Helms in the fourth and Johnny Bench in the sixth.

In Montreal, Face came in to pitch in the eighth inning, shut off a Pirate rally and then held his former team in the ninth after the Expos rallied for three runs in the last of the eighth.

John Boccabella doubled home two runs and scored the third on a throwing error by catcher Manny Sanguillen.

Atlanta completed a sweep of its three-game series with Los Angeles with the help of a wild throw by Wes Parker. The first baseman tossed away a relay throw, enabling two Braves to score in the fourth.

Houston pulled off a National plays in defeating Juan Marichal and San Francisco. Doug Rader scored two of the Astros' three runs after tripling and doubling.

Bob Oliver Gets Six Hits In Kansas City 15-1 Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Five of a kind will take the pot in most wild poker games, but in nine innings of baseball it's hard to top Bob Oliver's six-card Royal flush.

Oliver, a muscular Kansas City rookie, cracked a home run, a double and four singles in six trips to the plate Sunday as the Royals obliterated the California Angels 15-1.

The 6-foot-2, 215-pound outfielder, who got credit for his sixth hit via a post-game scoring change, became the 20th player in American League history—and the first in seven years—to collect half a dozen in a nine-inning contest.

While the Royals were crushing California with a 19-hit, three-homer barrage, the AL's hottest clubs—Minnesota, Washington and Baltimore—kept rolling in high gear and Oakland pitcher John "Blue Moon" Odom went on an RBI rampage against the Seattle Pilots.

The Twins edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 for their eighth consecutive victory; the Senators nipped Cleveland 4-3 for their 10th in 11 starts and the Orioles completed a four-game sweep at New York by pasting the Yankees 5-3 and 14-2 in a doubleheader.

Odom drove in six runs with a homer and double, and also beat out an infield hit, powering the Athletics past Seattle 11-7 after the Pilots took the doubleheader opener 6-4.

Rico Petrocelli's two-run homer in the 11th inning gave Boston a 4-2 victory over Detroit.

The Royals battered six California pitchers—and Oliver hit safely against each of them—in the biggest offensive splurge of their brief lifetime. The onslaught backed the four-hit pitching of Roger Nelson, who coasted to his second victory in four decisions.

Oliver, who went into the game batting .220 and came out with a .304 mark, got started with a second inning single off loser Clyde Wright. He doubled off Eddie Fisher in the fourth and greeted Pedro Borbon with his third homer, a two-run blast, as th Royals exploded for five runs in the fifth for a 7-0 lead.

They led 9-0 when Oliver opened the seventh with a single off Phil Ortega. Nine batters and five runs later, he came up again against George Brunet and rolled to third baseman Aurelio Rodriguez, who threw into the dirt at first as another run scored.

Rodriguez was charged with an error and Oliver, who singled in the ninth against Tom Murphy, wnt into the clubhouse to celebrate a 5-for-5 day. But the official scorer later reversed himself and credited the 26-year-old former Minnesota farmhand with a hit and an RBI on the grounder to Rodriguez.

Floyd Robinson, who slammed six hits for the White Sox in 1962, was the last American Leaguer to turn the trick. The feat has been accomplished by 18 National League players since 1900, the last of them Jesus Alou of San Francisco in 1964.

Wilbert Robinson of the 1892 Baltimore Orioles in the National League is the only man ever to stroke seven in a nine-inning game.

Graig Nettles, who played with Oliver at Denver last season before moving up to the Twins, ignited a decisive eighth inning rally against Chicago with a pinch hit homer, tying the game.

Two walks and an error then filled the bases and Cesar Tovar beat out an infield hit—a roller to third baseman Bill Melton, who started to go to second base and then held the ball as the winning run scored.

The victory, before a record Minnesota regular season crowd of 44,184, was the 17th for the Twins in their last 19 starts. The White Sox have lost six in a row.

Frank Howard and Mike Epstein crashed successive homers in the sixth inning, pulling Washington into a 3-3 tie against the Indians, and Ed Brinkman sent the go-ahead run home with a two-out single in the seventh.

The Senators have won five straight while the Indians have fallen three times in succession for a 3-18 season record.

The double setback extended the Yanks' losing streak to six games.

Montreal Wins Stanley Cup

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Claude Ruel can get some sleep now. The Montrtal Canadiens can sip champagne and enjoy their money.

The St. Louis Blues can console themselves in Florida while Blues' Coach Scotty Bowman mulls over a lesson learned too late.

The Canadiens edged the Blues 2-1, Sunday to sweep the National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals in four games. It was the 16th time the Canadiens took possession.

St. Louis has yet to beat Montreal in 17 games over two seasons.

John Ferguson scored the winning goal in the third period less than four minutes after Ted Harris tied the game 1-1. The Blues took a 1-0 lead, the first time they led in the finals, on Terry Gray's second-period goal.

Ruel indicated winning the Stanley Cup was anticlimatic for him, not because he didn't think much of the Blues.

"It's a personal victory for me," the Canadiens' coach said. "No one knows what I went through all year. I was always worried and I've been having trouble sleeping all year. To finish first was better for me than to win the Stanley Cup."

Bowman had to be content with what he considered a moral victory. The Blues had been clearly outclassed in the first three games, but showed in the last game they could give the Canadiens trouble.

"You know it's too late now, but I'll know how to play them next time," Bowman said.

The Blues leave Wednesday for a one-day vacation at the Florida motel of club owner Sidney Salomon Jr. But it wasn't until Sunday that Bowman or any of the Blues felt like going.

"It's hard to take a vacation when you don't really feel like it," Bowman said. "You don't like losing."

At least, Bowman figured, the Canadiens had to work hard for that last victory.

"You have to be humble and you have to be hungry in this game," Bowman said. "Montreal was hungry, but some of them weren't humble. They sort of lorded it over us."

Contracts Signed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Four key veterans have signed 1969 contracts with the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

They were tackles Ken Kortas, John Brown, Mike Taylor and end J. R. Wilburn the club said Saturday.

Crago, Carnes Set Oak Glen School Marks

Oak Glen tracksters set two school records and tied another at the OVAC meet Saturday at Bellaire.

Tim Crago high jumped 6-0½, good for third place, breaking the mark of 6-0 set by his brother Dan Crago in 1967. Jim Carnes, who was fifth in the high jump with a 5-10½ mark, took third in the low hurdles with a :21.0 clocking. Carnes did a :20.7 in the trials, breaking the school mark of :20.8 set by Tom Thayer. John Williams and Joe Nemith each pole vaulted 10-6, tying the mark set by Tom Lamb. Greg Hobbs did a :23.4 220, good for fourth place in the meet.

Wheeling won the 15-school event with 57 points. Wintersville had 39, Steubenville 34, Bellaire 27, Steubenville Central 22, St. Clairsville 21, Martins Ferry 17, John Marshall 9½ and Oak Glen 9.

NBA Playoffs In Final Game Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boston's Sam Jones succinctly sums up the National Basketball Association's championship struggle in seven words: "It all comes down to this one."

The Celtics, who make a habit of winning titles, and the Los Angeles Lakers, who haven't done it yet, tangle in their playoff payoff tonight at 7 p.m. PDT before a national television audience with the local area blacked out.

To the winning club goes $48,000 from the playoff kitty and to the loser $32,000.

For Jones, the game also marks the end of a Celtic career dating back to 1957. The veteran guard has announced his retirement to enter collegiate coaching.

Boston and Los Angeles, with their big men Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain, each has won three times in the best-four-of-seven series. Every victory has come on the home court, an advantage the Lakers hold in the finale at the Forum before 17,500.

Their big question centers on the physical condition of Jerry West, the sharpest shooter on the Los Angeles club. He pulled a hamstring muscle in game No. 5 and wasn't up to par when the Celtics evened the series with a 99-90 victory at Boston on Saturday.

"I'll definitely play," declared West. "I won't be in top shape, but I'll be better than I was Saturday."

After averaging 39 points a game for the first five, West scored 26 as the Celtics squared the series.

"We won that game because we held West 13 points under his average," commented Boston captain John Havlicek. "I seriously doubt we could have accomplished it if he was sound."

Five times since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles they have faced Boston in the finale and five times they've lost. This time they won the first two games but couldn't win in Boston, and after six battles, only five points separate the two clubs—Los Angeles having that statistical edge 638-633.

At home, the Lakers have won 120-118; 118-112; and 117-104. In Boston the Celtics have triumphed 111-105; 89-88; and 99-90.

In the Bill Russell era, his clubs have won the title 10 times in the past 12 years. Few thought they could do it again after finishing fourth in the Eastern division during the regular season with a 48-34 record. Then they dispatched Philadelphia 4-1 and New York 4-2.

Los Angeles, after acquiring Chamberlain after the 1967-68 campaign, finished first in the West with their best record 55-27 and whipped San Francisco and Atlanta in the opening playoff rounds.

With just one game remaining, Russell observed, "It's give and go again."

Majestic Prince Wins Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — They run the Kentucky Derby in just a fraction more than two minutes, but the fans spend weeks, months and years pondering its outcome and arguing what might have been.

Does Majestic Prince's victory in Saturday's 95th running prove he is the "super horse" he was touted to be?

Would Arts and Letters have beaten the Prince if Bill Shoemaker hadn't been injured?

What on earth happened to Top Knight?

If the Derby had been a little longer than its 1¼ miles, would the fast closing Dike have collared Majestic Prince?

Trainer Johnny Longden said the Prince wasn't at his peak for the Derby, but "was two to three lengths the best horse in the race," even though he won by only a neck over Arts and Letters.

Longden predicted Majestic Prince "will be a better horse in the Preakness' May 17, but declined to speculate on the possibility of having the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948.

"I just don't like to look that far ahead," he said.

Longden said he felt it wouldn't have made any difference had Shoemaker been aboard Arts and Letters instead of Braulio Baeza, but Elliott Burch, Arts and Letters' trainer, wasn't so sure.

"Perhaps there could have been a difference, I don't know," Burch said, noting that Shoemaker had ridden the colt before while Baeza was on board for the first time.

"I'm not taking anything away from Baeza when I say that," Burch went on. "He rode a great race and got everything out of the horse."

Ray Metcalf, trainer of Top Knight, a disappointing fifth in the Derby, said Majestic Prince would never beat the Florida Derby winner again and offered to bet $20,000 to back it up.

"I'm not a betting man," Longden said when told of the offer, "but I think he can get one if he wants to."

Burch said he still wouldn't plant the title "great" on Majestic Prince and added "he might be a freak horse.

"He's got a long way to go before he can be called great. After all, he has won just one classic. I was afraid of him before the race, though, because I tried to pick holes in him and couldn't find any."

Asked if Dike might have caught Majestic Prince if there had been a little more racing room, Longden said "he wasn't going past this horse if they were going once around again."

Metcalf had no excuses for Top Knight, second choice behind Majestic Prince in the betting by the estimated 100,000 fans.

"You just have to disregard this race," he said. "Manny Ycaza said he was just playing with the other horses. He said he thought he was going to win by 20 lengths.

"But when he came to the last quarter-mile, he said the track was cupping, that the horse couldn't get his footing," Metcalf said in quoting his rider.

At the end, Top Knight was more than 10½ lengths behind the winner, but Metcalf is sure there will be other days and other races.

"If he thinks he can beat me again, I'll bet him $20,000 right now. I'll bet him all the money he wants, and then I'll beat him," Metcalf said.

Human Umps Defended By Fleig

CINCINNATI (AP) — If National League secretary and umpire supervisor Fred Fleig has his way, electronic eyes will not replace home plate umpires

"I hope baseball never comes to that," Fleig said, although he says he sympathizes with batters who complain that umpires favor hurlers on low, outside pitches.

Umpires are burdened this year with a narrower strike zone, trying to detect "greaseballs," and enforcing the 20-second rule more closely.

Some baseball critics have suggested that the electronic device be used to call the game behind the plate because of the reduced strike area. Batters are complaining that since National League's umpires position themselves to the rear and left of the catcher instead of behind him, that they are not getting a good look at low and outside pitches.

"Log-rolling," in legislative parlance, is "You vote for my bill and I'll vote for yours."

W. Beaver Rally Fails, Rams Win

Western Beaver, trailing 8-2 going into the last of the sixth, rallied for five runs but fell just short as Rochester took an 8-7 Section 4 baseball win at Western Saturday.

In the last of the seventh it was 8-5. Keith McGaffick walked and Don Traylor slammed a two-out homer to make it 8-7. Dave McCreery doubled, but Joe Pillar fanned to end the game. John Petchel had earlier homered and Traylor and McCreery each had two hits to pace Western, now 1-2. Good had a triple and homer for Rochester, who routed Eli Rakas in the second. Paul Onuska got the win in relief.

Stanton Wins Own Invitational Track, 10 Records Set

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The performance of East Liverpool's Jim Musuraca on Friday was an example of real dedication.

Musuraca traveled some 150 miles, about 100 miles farther than any other Potter athlete had to travel, to help his school in two sports. And he was the key figure in two winning efforts. Musuraca started his athletic day by going to Salem for the shotput event in the county track meet, which opened the meet at 1:30. Then he drove to Steubenville for a 4 p.m. contest to pitch the Potters to the section baseball title with a three-hit, 9-1 win over Wintersville. Then it was back to Salem to run a leg on the winning 880 relay team, which ran about 8:10.

There are very few athletes versatile enough to run both the sprints and throw the shot, much less branch out from track to baseball. But for Musuraca, that's only the beginning. Football is undoubtedly his best sport, and he will continue his pursuit of that at Notre Dame this fall on a football scholarship. In the winter, in his spare time, he was one of the leading wrestlers on the Potter team, until sidelined by a shoulder injury this year.

THERE WERE other area athletes who performed very well at the county track meet. Steve Williams of East Liverpool, bothered by a pulled muscle, picked up a second and a third in the sprints as well as anchoring the winning 880 relay. Jim Bowersock of Beaver Local, who wasn't even expected to run due to a muscle pull, won the 440 and almost gave Beaver Local a win in the mile relay over record-setting Salem.

The mile relay, the last race on the program, was the most exciting race of the evening. Salem, the favorite, had a 10-yard lead going into the final lap. Ralph Carter, running anchor for East Liverpool, kept making up ground on Salem's Jerry Filler, so that coming into the stretch he was half a stride back. But Carter "hung", as they say in horse racing, and couldn't quite catch Filler. Meanwhile, Bowersock, who had even more ground to make up, came on strong on the outside and was just edged by Carter for a second at the wire.

WELLSVILLE'S moment of triumph came when Ken Kornbau broke the two-mile mark. Kornbau led from the second lap on, but was pushed all the way by Mike Greaves of East Palestine, who was only a stride back going into the final lap, when Kornbau put on an outstanding finishing kick. There was some doubt, due to a timing mix-up, that the record would be allowed, but it finally was.

Fred Cope, Salem athletic director who managed the meet, head referee Sim Earich and all the other officials did an excellent job, with the events going off on schedule, or even before, and the milling around of contestants, noticeable at many meets, reduced to a minimum.

Kornbau Sets Two-Mile Mark

Stanton won its own invatational track meet Saturday, as 10 meet records were set and one tied in perfect weather.

The Red Raiders, unbeaten in 24 straight dual meets, easily outdistanced Jefferson Union, their chief Indian League rival, 68½-43. Wellsville and Beaver Local tied for third with 32, Crestview had 28½, Greenford 13, Brilliant 10, Carrolton and Springfield 9, United Local 7½ and Southern Local 3½.

Ray Adams of JU was the only double winner, taking both hurdle events. He lowered his own mark in the lows from :16.3 to :15.6.

Ken Kornbau of Wellsville lowered his own mark in the two-mile from 10:25.4 to 10:17.9. John Minor of Stanton, th other defending champion, was hospitalized with a kidney ailment and Pete McGeehan of Jefferson Union set an 880 record in 2:04.4. Minor did 2:06.2 last year.

Dave Olesky of the home team broke the 100-yard dash mark of :10.5 by Bart Eagenhardt of Brilliant with a :10.3 clocking. Joe Remish of Crestview did :23.0 in the 220, eclipsing the :23.3 posted by Todd Weekly of Wellsville in 1967. Mike Patterson of Stanton broke another Wellsville record, doing a :53.0 440, better than Jack Young's :53.3 in 1967.

All three relay records fell or were tied. Stanton did a fantastic :56.9 in the shuttle hurdle relay, lowering the :58.8 standard set by JU last year. The Red Raiders took the 880 in 1:4.8 as Wellsville was disqualifid, bettering the 1:35.6 set by Beaver Local last year. And the mile relay of 3:36.5 by JU tied Stanton's mark.

John Weeda of Wellsville set a new shot record of 45-8, almost a foot better than the 44-8½ posted by John Banks of Hopedale last year. Chip McConville of Crestview set a long jump record with a 20-7¾ jump, barely better than the 20-6 posted by Conrad Banks of Hopedale last year. Bob Holland of Stanton did an 11-6 pole vault, better than the 11-1 record set by Joe Wickham of Stanton in 1967.

Other winners were Danny Smith of Stanton in the high jump, Phil Harvin of Brilliant in the discus and Glen Lewis of Carrollton in the mile.

Face's Relief Job Beats Bucs For Expos

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Cloninger came back. Roy Face came back. Even Rich Allen came back.

But even though Allen was $1,000 poorer when he came back to the Philadelphia line-up, he wasn't minus any of his hitting prowess.

The controversial slugger, who was fined $1,000 for missing the previous two games without permission, drove in two runs as the Phillies whipped sagging St. Louis 5-2 Sunday.

Cloninger, meanwhile, bounced back in Cincinnati's second-game, 12-0 decision over San Diego, pitching a masterful two-hitter just about 24 hours after he failed to get a Padre out in the first inning. The Reds also won he opener 3-2.

Face, 41-year-old veteran who was out of work last month until Montreal took a chance on him, relieved for the fourth time in the past week and gained his second victory against no defeats in the Expos' 6-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

In other National League games, Atlanta downed Los Angeles 4-1, Houston tripped San Francisco 3-1 and the New York Mets took the Chicago Cubs twice by 3-2 scores.

In the American League, Baltimore swept New York 5-3 and 14-2. Washington edged Cleveland 4-3, Minnesota nipped Chicago 4-3, Kansas City shellacked California 15-1, Boston trimmed Detroit 4-2 in 11 innings and Oakland split with Seattle, winning 11-7 after a 6-4 loss.

Allen's latest troubles started Friday when he missed two planes from Philadelphia to St. Louis and thus the Phillies' night game with the Cardinals. He didn't make it in time for Saturday's game either, showing up an hour after it started.

He was there and in the line-up for Sunday's contest, though, and responded by driving in runs with a double in the third inning and a sacrifice fly in the sixth as the Phillies completed a sweep of the three-game series.

"We had a great weekend, we had bautiful weather, we won three games and Richie Allen came back and had a great day," beamed Phils Manager Bob Skinner, carefully skirting any mention of the AWOL incident.

Cloninger started for Cincinnati against San Diego Saturday but was battered for five runs in the first inning.

However, Manager Dave Bristol came back with the right-hander in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader, and Cloninger responded by holding the Padres hitless after the second inning.

The pitcher also contributed a homer and a single to the Reds' 11-hit attack as he picked up his first victory against four losses.

The Reds won the opener behind run-scoring hits by Tommy Helms in the fourth and Johnny Bench in the sixth.

In Montreal, Face came in to pitch in the eighth inning, shut off a Pirate rally and then held his former team in the ninth after the Expos rallied for three runs in the last of the eighth.

John Boccabella doubled home two runs and scored the third on a throwing error by catcher Manny Sanguillen.

Atlanta completed a sweep of its three-game series with Los Angeles with the help of a wild throw by Wes Parker. The first baseman tossed away a relay throw, enabling two Braves to score in the fourth.

Houston pulled off a National plays in defeating Juan Marichal and San Francisco. Doug Rader scored two of the Astros' three runs after tripling and doubling.

Bob Oliver Gets Six Hits In Kansas City 15-1 Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Five of a kind will take the pot in most wild poker games, but in nine innings of baseball it's hard to top Bob Oliver's six-card Royal flush.

Oliver, a muscular Kansas City rookie, cracked a home run, a double and four singles in six trips to the plate Sunday as the Royals obliterated the California Angels 15-1.

The 6-foot-2, 215-pound outfielder, who got credit for his sixth hit via a post-game scoring change, became the 20th player in American League history—and the first in seven years—to collect half a dozen in a nine-inning contest.

While the Royals were crushing California with a 19-hit, three-homer barrage, the AL's hottest clubs—Minnesota, Washington and Baltimore—kept rolling in high gear and Oakland pitcher John "Blue Moon" Odom went on an RBI rampage against the Seattle Pilots.

The Twins edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3 for their eighth consecutive victory; the Senators nipped Cleveland 4-3 for their 10th in 11 starts and the Orioles completed a four-game sweep at New York by pasting the Yankees 5-3 and 14-2 in a doubleheader.

Odom drove in six runs with a homer and double, and also beat out an infield hit, powering the Athletics past Seattle 11-7 after the Pilots took the doubleheader opener 6-4.

Rico Petrocelli's two-run homer in the 11th inning gave Boston a 4-2 victory over Detroit.

The Royals battered six California pitchers—and Oliver hit safely against each of them—in the biggest offensive splurge of their brief lifetime. The onslaught backed the four-hit pitching of Roger Nelson, who coasted to his second victory in four decisions.

Oliver, who went into the game batting .220 and came out with a .304 mark, got started with a second inning single off loser Clyde Wright. He doubled off Eddie Fisher in the fourth and greeted Pedro Borbon with his third homer, a two-run blast, as th Royals exploded for five runs in the fifth for a 7-0 lead.

They led 9-0 when Oliver opened the seventh with a single off Phil Ortega. Nine batters and five runs later, he came up again against George Brunet and rolled to third baseman Aurelio Rodriguez, who threw into the dirt at first as another run scored.

Rodriguez was charged with an error and Oliver, who singled in the ninth against Tom Murphy, wnt into the clubhouse to celebrate a 5-for-5 day. But the official scorer later reversed himself and credited the 26-year-old former Minnesota farmhand with a hit and an RBI on the grounder to Rodriguez.

Floyd Robinson, who slammed six hits for the White Sox in 1962, was the last American Leaguer to turn the trick. The feat has been accomplished by 18 National League players since 1900, the last of them Jesus Alou of San Francisco in 1964.

Wilbert Robinson of the 1892 Baltimore Orioles in the National League is the only man ever to stroke seven in a nine-inning game.

Graig Nettles, who played with Oliver at Denver last season before moving up to the Twins, ignited a decisive eighth inning rally against Chicago with a pinch hit homer, tying the game.

Two walks and an error then filled the bases and Cesar Tovar beat out an infield hit—a roller to third baseman Bill Melton, who started to go to second base and then held the ball as the winning run scored.

The victory, before a record Minnesota regular season crowd of 44,184, was the 17th for the Twins in their last 19 starts. The White Sox have lost six in a row.

Frank Howard and Mike Epstein crashed successive homers in the sixth inning, pulling Washington into a 3-3 tie against the Indians, and Ed Brinkman sent the go-ahead run home with a two-out single in the seventh.

The Senators have won five straight while the Indians have fallen three times in succession for a 3-18 season record.

The double setback extended the Yanks' losing streak to six games.

Montreal Wins Stanley Cup

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Claude Ruel can get some sleep now. The Montrtal Canadiens can sip champagne and enjoy their money.

The St. Louis Blues can console themselves in Florida while Blues' Coach Sctty Bowman mulls over a lesson learned too late.

The Canadiens edged the Blues 2-1, Sunday to sweep the National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals in four games. It was the 16th time the Canadiens took possession.

St. Louis has yet to beat Montreal in 17 games over two seasons.

John Ferguson scored the winning goal in the third period less than four minutes after Ted Harris tied the game 1-1. The Blues took a 1-0 lead, the first time they led in the finals, on Terry Gray's second-period goal.

Ruel indicated winning the Stanley Cup was anticlimatic for him, not because he didn't think much of the Blues.

"It's a personal victory for me," the Canadiens' coach said. "No one knows what I went through all year. I was always worried and I've been having trouble sleeping all year. To finish first was better for me than to win the Stanley Cup."

Bowman had to be content with what he considered a moral victory. The Blues had been clearly outclassed in the first three games, but showed in the last game they could give the Canadiens trouble.

"You know it's too late now, but I'll know how to play them next time," Bowman said.

The Blues leave Wednesday for a one-day vacation at the Florida motel of club owner Sidney Salomon Jr. But it wasn't until Sunday that Bowman or any of the Blues felt like going.

"It's hard to take a vacation when you don't really feel like it," Bowman said. "You don't like losing."

At least, Bowman figured, the Canadiens had to work hard for that last victory.

"You have to be humble and you have to be hungry in this game," Bowman said. "Montreal was hungry, but some of them weren't humble. They sort of lorded it over us."

Contracts Signed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Four key veterans have signed 1969 contracts with the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

They were tackles Ken Kortas, John Brown, Mike Taylor and end J. R. Wilburn the club said Saturday.

Crago, Carnes Set Oak Glen School Marks

Oak Glen tracksters set two school records and tied another at the OVAC meet Saturday at Bellaire.

Tim Crago high jumped 6-0½, good for third place, breaking the mark of 6-0 set by his brother Dan Crago in 1967. Jim Carnes, who was fifth in the high jump with a 5-10½ mark, took third in the low hurdles with a :21.0 clocking. Carnes did a :20.7 in the trials, breaking the school mark of :20.8 set by Tom Thayer. John Williams and Joe Nemith each pole vaulted 10-6, tying the mark set by Tom Lamb. Greg Hobbs did a :23.4 220, good for fourth place in the meet.

Wheeling won the 15-school event with 57 points. Wintersville had 39, Steubenville 34, Bellaire 27, Steubenville Central 22, St. Clairsville 21, Martins Ferry 17, John Marshall 9½ and Oak Glen 9.

NBA Playoffs In Final Game Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boston's Sam Jones succinctly sums up the National Basketball Association's championship struggle in seven words: "It all comes down to this one."

The Celtics, who make a habit of winning titles, and the Los Angeles Lakers, who haven't done it yet, tangle in their playoff payoff tonight at 7 p.m. PDT before a national television audience with the local area blacked out.

To the winning club goes $48,000 from the playoff kitty and to the loser $32,000.

For Jones, the game also marks the end of a Celtic career dating back to 1957. The veteran guard has announced his retirement to enter collegiate coaching.

Boston and Los Angeles, with their big men Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain, each has won three times in the best-four-of-seven series. Every victory has come on the home court, an advantage the Lakers hold in the finale at the Forum before 17,500.

Their big question centers on the physical condition of Jerry West, the sharpest shooter on the Los Angeles club. He pulled a hamstring muscle in game No. 5 and wasn't up to par when the Celtics evened the series with a 99-90 victory at Boston on Saturday.

"I'll definitely play," declared West. "I won't be in top shape, but I'll be better than I was Saturday."

After averaging 39 points a game for the first five, West scored 26 as the Celtics squared the series.

"We won that game because we held West 13 points under his average," commented Boston captain John Havlicek. "I seriously doubt we could have accomplished it if he was sound."

Five times since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles they have faced Boston in the finale and five times they've lost. This time they won the first two games but couldn't win in Boston, and after six battles, only five points separate the two clubs—Los Angeles having that statistical edge 638-633.

At home, the Lakers have won 120-118; 118-112; and 117-104. In Boston the Celtics have triumphed 111-105; 89-88; and 99-90.

In the Bill Russell era, his clubs have won the title 10 times in the past 12 years. Few thought they could do it again after finishing fourth in the Eastern division during the regular season with a 48-34 record. Then they dispatched Philadelphia 4-1 and New York 4-2.

Los Angeles, after acquiring Chamberlain after the 1967-68 campaign, finished first in the West with their best record 55-27 and whipped San Francisco and Atlanta in the opening playoff rounds.

With just one game remaining, Russell observed, "It's give and go again."

Majestic Prince Wins Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — They run the Kentucky Derby in just a fraction more than two minutes, but the fans spend weeks, months and years pondering its outcome and arguing what might have been.

Does Majestic Prince's victory in Saturday's 95th running prove he is the "super horse" he was touted to be?

Would Arts and Letters have beaten the Prince if Bill Shoemaker hadn't been injured?

What on earth happened to Top Knight?

If the Derby had been a little longer than its 1¼ miles, would the fast closing Dike have collared Majestic Prince?

Trainer Johnny Longden said the Prince wasn't at his peak for the Derby, but "was two to three lengths the best horse in the race," even though he won by only a neck over Arts and Letters.

Longden predicted Majestic Prince "will be a better horse in the Preakness' May 17, but declined to speculate on the possibility of having the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948.

"I just don't like to look that far ahead," he said.

Longden said he felt it wouldn't have made any difference had Shoemaker been aboard Arts and Letters instead of Braulio Baeza, but Elliott Burch, Arts and Letters' trainer, wasn't so sure.

"Perhaps there could have been a difference, I don't know," Burch said, noting that Shoemaker had ridden the colt before while Baeza was on board for the first time.

"I'm not taking anything away from Baeza when I say that," Burch went on. "He rode a great race and got everything out of the horse."

Ray Metcalf, trainer of Top Knight, a disappointing fifth in the Derby, said Majestic Prince would never beat the Florida Derby winner again and offered to bet $20,000 to back it up.

"I'm not a betting man," Longden said when told of the offer, "but I think he can get one if he wants to."

Burch said he still wouldn't plant the title "great" on Majestic Prince and added "he might be a freak horse.

"He's got a long way to go before he can be called great. After all, he has won just one classic. I was afraid of him before the race, though, because I tried to pick holes in him and couldn't find any."

Asked if Dike might have caught Majestic Prince if there had been a little more racing room, Longden said "he wasn't going past this horse if they were going once around again."

Metcalf had no excuses for Top Knight, second choice behind Majestic Prince in the betting by the estimated 100,000 fans.

"You just have to disregard this race," he said. "Manny Ycaza said he was just playing with the other horses. He said he thought he was going to win by 20 lengths.

"But when he came to the last quarter-mile, he said the track was cupping, that the horse couldn't get his footing," Metcalf said in quoting his rider.

At the end, Top Knight was more than 10½ lengths behind the winner, but Metcalf is sure there will be other days and other races.

"If he thinks he can beat me again, I'll bet him $20,000 right now. I'll bet him all the money he wants, and then I'll beat him," Metcalf said.

Human Umps Defended By Fleig

CINCINNATI (AP) — If National League secretary and umpire supervisor Fred Fleig has his way, electronic eyes will not replace home plate umpires.

"I hope baseball never comes to that," Fleig said, although he says he sympathizes with batters who complain that umpires favor hurlers on low, outside pitches.

Umpires are burdened this year with a narrower strike zone, trying to detect "greaseballs," and enforcing the 20-second rule more closely.

Some baseball critics have suggested that the electronic device be used to call the game behind the plate because of the reduced strike area. Batters are complaining that since National League's umpires position themselves to the rear and left of the catcher instead of behind him, that they are not getting a good look at low and outside pitches.

"Log-rolling," in legislative parlance, is "You vote for my bill and I'll vote for yours."

Western Beaver, trailing 8-2 going into the last of the sixth, rallied for five runs but fell just short as Rochester took an 8-7 Section 4 baseball win at Western Saturday.

In the last of the seventh it was 8-5. Keith McGaffick walked and Don Traylor slammed a two-out homer to make it 8-7. Dave McCreery doubled, but Joe Pillar fanned to end the game. John Petchel had earlier homered and Traylor and McCreery each had two hits to pace Western, now 1-2. Good had a triple and homer for Rochester, who routed Eli Rakas in the second. Paul Onuska got the win in relief.
